GERMANS MARCH INTO SUDETENLAND TONIGHT

Quiz of Sheriff In Fee Case Tied Up by Argument

Skinny Skribbles

Around And About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Orange County Peace Officers association is to hold a meeting in San Clemente, Oct. 5. The program announces the appearance of a blonde, which is enough to keep me away, but not far away. I don't see why Hunter Leech has to sign everything which comes out of the Peace Officers association. I can write—my name. Leo Fris is to be guest speaker. That means there isn't going to be enough for me. Hope the boys have a good time.

That "dead-end" telephone call I received yesterday about wanting to trade oranges for tires went to the wrong number, but the right person. And when it comes to trading, wonder how my communcant would like to trade a pair of shoes for three thousand boxes of oranges? I'm in the tradin' mood.

Every one who "takes in" the Pomona fair praises the exhibition. About the only squawk I've heard has been that the price of hamburgers is a little high, but another authority turns in his experience at ten cents per "burger" and five cents per coffee, and what more could one ask? Those figures are low enough to permit an orange grower's indulgence.

I'm in favor of the dictators and ministers—prime or otherwise—continuing their conferences indefinitely. As long as they are in conference there won't be any war.

Mayor Ray Lambert, of Tomato Springs, who raises oranges and a protest against prevailing prices, favors the hilltop site for the Bob Squires monument which John Joplin is promoting, so as to mark the spot where the tragedy took place some 26 years ago. Lambert's decision should be final. So a motion to adjourn is now in order.

It isn't within the range of either opportunity or disposition to meet the requests of all your friends. Maybe that's one objection to having so many friends. But one ticket to the Pomona fair won't serve only one person at a time. That's why so many others were disappointed.

Harry Hayes and Ed Vegely worried about the mosquito invasion, size, penetration and results. There isn't any city ordinance governing the conduct of mosquitoes, so far as I am able to find. Hayes and Vegely are not worrying about legal control. They profess to be concerned as to my personal safety. They claim if two mosquitoes attacked me at the same time my chances would be nil. Hayes doesn't believe the story that I became very angry when the mosquitoes ganged up and drove me off the front lawn where I was operating a mower. The story was too much for his credulity. So I've had to revise that yarn, and will present it at the next meeting of the city council.

Sign on business house: "Please do not block this driveway." Passer-by said the place hadn't been open for five years, but the sign was still doing valiant duty.

And, says Howard Irwin, the thing to do is just before you die buy a lot of stocks at the "low" and then after you are gone have some arrangement made with the beneficiaries to have them go up. That's the advice of an inheritance appraiser, and I think he's got something there. It's a cinch they never went up when I was active. Maybe they might when I become inactive, a situation which would not concern me very much.

Only One Question Answered During Two-Hour Session

Big legal guns for the board of supervisors and for Sheriff Logan Jackson began booming today, as the sheriff appeared for a deposition in the $100,000 "fee suit" against him.

By noon recess, after the hearing had continued nearly two hours, Jackson had answered one question.

He answered "yes" to a question as to whether his name was Logan Jackson, and whether he had been sheriff since Jan. 5, 1931. THEN COMES ARGUMENT

Remainder of the time was spent in legal arguments, the latest on a question which may solve the entire controversy before trial of the case begins. The question, by the supervisors' attorneys:

"Please state your actual expenses for the feeding of prisoners in the county jail between Jan. 1, 1931, and June 1, 1931."

Whether or not the county is entitled to know the answer to that question—that depends the supervisors' suit almost entirely.

VENTURAN ON BENCH The controversial salary ordinance, which started the furor, was not at issue yet, since Jackson's alleged profit on feeding of prisoners before last October could not be governed by the recent ordinance.

EX-JUDGES ARGUE Jackson did not appear when the session convened, in a superior court jury room. He appeared only after lengthy arguments by attorneys for both sides on whether or not former Judge Frank Drumm, Jackson's attorney, had been legally served with a notice for the deposition. Judge Drumm finally waived the technicality and sent for his client.

Former superior judge appeared on both sides. Appearing for Jackson were Judge Drumm (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

LEAGUE DROPS TREATY LINK

GENEVA. (AP)—The assembly of the League of Nations today accepted the principle of separating the league covenant from the Versailles treaty.

The League of Nations was born of the post-war peace pact and the covenant—its constitution—was written into the Versailles treaty.

Approval of separating them, coming a day after the Munich conference on Czechoslovakia, paved the way for erasure of one of Germany's main arguments against membership.

Railmen, Bosses Collide

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Railroad management and labor collided head-on today before the emergency board appointed by President Roosevelt to avert a nationwide strike.

J. Carter Fort, counsel for the carriers which have proposed a 15 per cent wage cut, attacked present railroad wages as "unreasonably high." He promised in an opening statement to prove these were a factor in "the desperate financial conditions of the railroad industry."

This was flatly denied by Charles M. Hay, counsel for 18 brotherhoods representing some 800,000 workers. Hay argued the present plight of railroads arose from two causes:

"Decline of gross business due to competition and, in season, to the decline in general business."

"Bad financial policies and practices." Hay said a wage cut would not solve any of the problems, that the need was for "a comprehensive national transportation plan for the proper registration and correlation of all forms of transportation and the correction of financial abuses and a thorough going program of reorganization."

The pay of railroad men, Hay continued, had remained nearly static since 1920 while thousands of them lost jobs, or went on part time, and other industries advanced wages.

Fort told the three-man board that labor organizations, "and they alone," would be to blame if a strike were called.

Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy of the North Carolina supreme court told representatives for carriers and the railroad brotherhoods that the board's "mission is finding of fact."

"Our desire is to get a full picture," the tall judge remarked as he asked lawyers on each side to work out an informal agreement for dividing time.

RETAIL SALES ON UPTURN

NEW YORK. (AP)—Retail sales turned upward at most leading centers of distribution this week as shoppers made purchases deferred during last week's stormy weather. Dun & Broadstreet reported today.

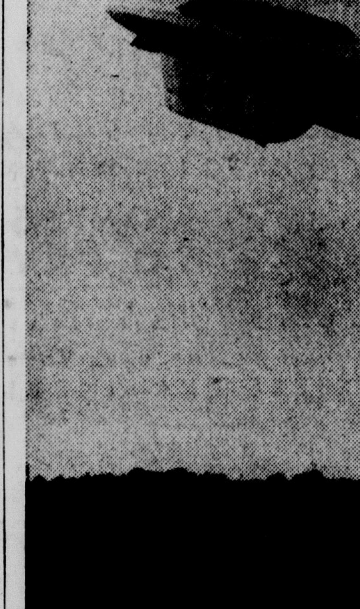

The buying rebound lifted retail volume for the country as a whole to within 2 to 12 per cent of totals for the like 1937 week.

Wholesale trade, however, lagged 3 to 8 per cent under last week and 5 to 17 per cent below last year.

"As shoppers in the East made up for buying postponed during the storm period, total retail volume rebounded quickly," the credit agency said.

"In stricken areas, an avalanche of calls for roofing materials, glass, electrical specialties, small tools, candles and kerosene lamps depleted store stocks."

"Although most cities reported sales still below totals for the corresponding period of 1937, many pointed out that the decrease in dollar volume was approximately equal to the fall in prices and that unit sales were actually close to those of last year."

Hitler, Chamberlain Agree On New Peace Declaration

Premier Cheered

LONDON. (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain flew home today to vast, cheering throngs with a peace pact on Czechoslovakia and strong hopes for a broad European settlement as the fruits of his diplomacy.

He stepped from his plane at 5:39 p. m. to mad cheering by excited crowds that had gathered at Heston airport to give him a triumphant homecoming from his third flight to Germany.

PEACE OR ALL

One of his first duties was to go to Buckingham palace and report personally to the king on the achievements of the four power conference at Munich yesterday.

"Settlement of the Czech problem which now has been achieved," Chamberlain said, "is in my view only a prelude to a larger settlement in which all Europe may find peace."

Smiling broadly, the Prime Minister waved his hat at the excited thousands with schoolboy enthusiasm.

DECLARATION READ He held up for the crowd to see, the joint declaration he and Reichsfuehrer Hitler signed this morning in a private talk after the four-power conference.

Then he read: "The German chancellor and myself regard the agreement signed last night and the Anglo-German naval agreement as symbolic of the desire of our two peoples never to go to war with one another again."

His cabinet was summoned to meet tonight to hear his account of the Munich conference.

Britain, from her cabinet ministers to her humblest subjects, rejoiced with her prime minister. CROWD BLOCKS ROADS

Hours before Chamberlain's plane was expected, roads leading to Heston airport were blocked with automobiles, bicycles and pedestrians.

In the throng was the entire cabinet, out to greet him on his return from the mission to Germany which he started yesterday with his minister's surprised send-off.

In the milling throngs were school children waving Union Jacks.

Lloyd's rang the famous Lutine bell in celebration of the peace settlement and sent the prime minister congratulatory resolutions.

A public enclosure adjoining the landing field overflowed and thousands waited outside for a glimpse as Chamberlain was driven past.

Pope Made Happy By Munich Pact

CASTLE GANDOLFO. (AP)—Pope Pius XI, informed of the Munich four-power accord after mass this morning, expressed great joy to those about him.

The Smiles of Victory

This picture of Hitler and Mussolini, taken in Munich and radioed across the Atlantic, shows them in apparently a happy mood. Hitler, aided by Mussolini, was able to add to his empire without a war.

HITLER HAILED AS 'DELIVERER' OF SUDETENLAND BY HENLEIN

BAYREUTH, Germany. (AP)—Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten German party, today sent a telegram to Reichsfuehrer Hitler hailing him as "deliverer" of 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans.

"In the name of Sudeten Germanism, tormented and oppressed for 20 years, I thank you, my Fuehrer, from a deeply moved heart for the freedom which you have won for us by fighting," the message said.

Henlein on Sept. 15 issued a proclamation calling for German annexation of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland and on the same day the Prague government ordered his arrest on a charge of treason.

He fled into Germany and announced organization of the Sudeten Free corps, irregular soldiers, to harass Czechoslovak authorities along the border. On Sept. 16 the Sudeten German party was outlawed in Czechoslovakia.

FRENCH CABINET APPROVES

PARIS. (AP)—The French government, after hearing Premier Daladier's report on the four power Munich accord, summoned parliament to meet next Tuesday.

Announcement of the call came from a cabinet session at the Elysee palace with President Lebrun presiding shortly after Daladier had returned from the conference which ended the German-Czechoslovak crisis and immediate threats of a European war.

The summons was announced after the ministers had approved unanimously the premier's report on the Munich conference. It was expected that the chamber and deputies would be asked Tuesday also to vote approval.

The premier made a triumphal entry into Paris after landing at Le Bourget airport on his return from Munich. He drove through miles of flower strewn streets echoing with the cheers of half a million Parisians.

WILD CHEERS FOR IL DUCE

ROME. (AP)—Premier Mussolini received one of the greatest welcomes his followers ever have accorded him when he returned to Rome today from the four-power conference at Munich.

He appeared shortly after on the balcony of the Palazzo Venezia.

Il Duce apparently had not planned to speak when he first appeared on the balcony. He saluted, smiled and then disappeared behind the balcony's curtained glass doors.

But twice the uproar brought him back. Finally he raised his hand for silence, and said: "You have lived through memorable hours. We have worked at Munich for peace according to justice. Is this not the Italian ideal?"

In one voice the crowd chorused: "Yes! Yes!"

For 15 minutes after he withdrew the crowds continued cheering.

But Demobilization Of Armies Waits

THE EUROPEAN SITUATION AT A GLANCE By the Associated Press

EUROPE HAS AVERTED WAR The big four at Munich—British Prime Minister Chamberlain, Reichsfuehrer Hitler, Italian Premier Mussolini, French Premier Daladier—turned Europe from the brink of conflict by:

1. Allowing Hitler symbolic occupation of Sudetenland immediately—Hitler's army enters at midnight.

2. Arranging peaceful, gradual cession of Sudeten German areas, plebiscites in doubtful areas; an international commission to regulate the annexation.

Czechoslovakia, unrepresented at the conference, has accepted the plan.

A new Hitler-Chamberlain agreement declared "the desire of our two peoples never to go to war with one another again."

Daladier acclaimed mutual good will between France and Germany.

Britain hailed Chamberlain as a preserver of peace.

Italy hailed Mussolini as a savior of peace.

Germany rejoiced in settlement with honor.

Soviet Russia—Czechoslovakia's mutual aid ally and partner with Britain and France in threats to resist force—was not invited.

Arrangements were made to satisfy Polish and Hungarian claims for slices of Czechoslovakia.

MUNICH. (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain and Reichsfuehrer Hitler today added a new Anglo-German declaration of peace to the four-power Munich accord that gave Germany part of Czechoslovakia and averted a European war.

After the British and German chiefs had signed with Premier Daladier, Italy and French Premier Daladier, the pact for Czechoslovakia's demobilization they made a joint declaration of the will of their "two peoples never to go to war with one another again."

German troops were at the border to begin the gradual occupation of the Sudetenland at midnight as Chamberlain announced that: The Czechoslovak government accepted the Munich accord.

The international commission to supervise the cession was meeting in Berlin and would enter the Sudetenland tomorrow.

Demobilization of Europe's armies and the British navy would "come later"—after the German occupation was accomplished, within ten days.

Chamberlain expressed belief Munich would open the way to appeasement in Europe.

ITALIANS MAY MOVE On this note of peace he flew back to London. Daladier left by air for Paris after a declaration of French friendship for Germany. Mussolini entrained earlier to return to the acclaim of his own people as "the savior of peace in Europe."

The Munich accord envisaged satisfaction of Hungary's and Poland's claims for cession of Czechoslovak territories. After that Germany and Italy were pledged to join Britain and France in a guarantee of the diminished frontiers of Czechoslovakia.

Diplomats in Rome believed Mussolini might soon begin withdrawal of Italian troops from Spain as a further contribution to general appeasement.

CHAMBERLAIN'S REWARD In a joint declaration the British prime minister and the supreme leader of Germany accepted the Munich pact together with the Anglo-German pact of 1936 as symbols of the two powers' will to live in friendship.

The Anglo-German declaration signed in a two-hours' earnest talk between the Nazi chieftain and the tireless 69-year-old leader of Britain signalled a tremendous new joint effort to eliminate the threat of war.

'Superior Force Compels Us To Accept,' Premier Tells Czechs

DECISION MADE TO SAVE LIFE AND NATION

PRAGUE, (AP)—Czechoslovakia's soldier premier, General Jan Syrový, in an appeal broadcast to the nation tonight declared that "superior force compelled us to accept" the four power Munich agreement for the dismemberment of the country.

"This is the most difficult moment in my life," declared the 50-year-old general who led 70,000 Czech troops in an epic march across Siberia toward the end of the World war.

"But I have taken the decision to save life and to save the nation."

NATION UNITED

General Ludwig Krejci, commander-in-chief of the army, issued a proclamation appealing to the army loyalty to protect the new state of Czechoslovakia. This followed the premier's broadcast.

"Superior force has compelled us to accept," declared Premier Syrový. "My duty was to consider everything. As a soldier I had to choose the way to peace."

"The nation will be stronger and more united."

"We have chosen the only right course."

"Four powers have decided to ask from us the abdication of German territories. We had to choose between a useless fight and sacrifices."

DEATH OR ABDICATION

"We have accepted the unheard of sacrifices imposed upon us. We have had to choose between the death of a nation and abdication of some territories."

"We shall accomplish the conditions imposed on us. The main thing is that we are remaining ourselves and we must be united."

Syrový announced the decision to accept the Munich terms thus: "The government of the Czechoslovak republic, having examined the Munich decision in all details as well as the circumstances which influenced that decision, and after having taken into account all the pressing recommendations which were sent to Prague by the British and French governments, has decided, in full realization of its historic responsibility and in full accord with the responsible elements of the various political parties, to accept the Munich decision of the four powers."

PACT PROTESTED

"It has done this in the belief that it is necessary for safeguarding the nation and that it is not possible today to take any other decision."

"The Czechoslovak government in making this decision sends at the same time to the world its protest against this agreement, which was made in an unilateral manner and without its participation."

Later the premier said: "I am appealing to the people to maintain confidence in their leaders. Our state will not be the smallest. There are smaller states than we shall be."

"But understanding with our neighbors will be easier."

ANTI-NAZIS FLEE

More than 50,000 Sudeten German social democrats, a disident element among the 3,500,000 German minorities, already have fled from Sudetenland into the interior of Czechoslovakia.

Czechoslovak authorities said they expected the number to be trebled shortly. The problem of the refugees, however, was said to be minor as compared to the social democrats unable to leave territory which the German army will take over.

The president of the social democrats said he planned to appeal to Britain in an effort to see that at least part of the anti-Nazi Germans be given new homes and new possibilities of existence in some far away country, perhaps Canada.

inate Europe's worst threats of war.

This, Chamberlain believes, will be his inculcated reward for his unprecedented man-to-man dealings, which reached fruition in last night's accord which gave Hitler satisfaction in Czechoslovakia but also gave Europe peace.

NO FEELING OF HATE

Premier Laval of France, before his departure made the statement that "I have had the pleasure personally to establish that no feeling of hate or enmity of any kind prevails in Germany against France."

"Be assured that the French on their part feel no hostility toward Germany."

Mussolini of Italy was the first of the big four to leave the scene of the historic parley. His role as intermediary was held indispensable in making the Munich accord between the democracies and Fascist powers possible.

CHAMBERLAIN CHEERED

As the prime minister left his hotel the lobby was packed with a cheering German crowd. Women rushed up to seize his hand. He smiled, embarrassed but happy.

Despite a drizzling rain slanting right into people's faces a huge crowd had assembled outside the hotel and along the route his automobile followed on the way to the airport. There was endless "heiling," saluting and cheering.

Concerning demobilization Chamberlain said specifically to newsmen in his hotel.

"I hope there now will be obvious measures of demobilization everywhere."

PREMIER SMILES

Nothing definite along this line had been decided today, however, he said.

A sly smile played about Chamberlain's eyes and he continued to roll a cigar between his teeth as he sat at a big desk. It was an almost unprecedented interview with a prime minister of Great Britain.

The international commission to supervise the transfer of Czechoslovak territory to Germany was named early today and met briefly before flying to Berlin to complete an organization for supervising details of ceding Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German territory to Germany.

Named on the commission were Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin; Andre Francois Poncet, the French ambassador; Count Ernst von Weizsacker, German secretary of state; and Bernardo Attolico, Italian ambassador to Berlin, with the Czechoslovak minister to Berlin, Dr. Vojtech Mastny, likely to be the fifth member.

They were to supervise the occupation of Sudetenland, the selection of areas to be occupied and those in which plebiscites are to be held, and to administer other details.

TORNADO DEAD IN CHARLESTON REACHES 26

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—This city dug out today from the wreckage strewn by a raging tornado, and counted the storm's toll at 26 dead, 200 injured, some seriously, and property damage estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

Four companies of state militia, augmented by soldiers from nearby Fort Moultrie and marines from the navy yard, aided civilian authorities in patrolling the debris-covered streets, along which many of the city's famous landmarks were destroyed or damaged.

Col. Harry O. Withington, of the 118th infantry, South Carolina national guard, commanding the troops, said there was no disorder and no looting.

Fourteen of the dead were white, and 12 were negroes.

All through the night searchers pulled away at the wreckage of buildings, looking for more bodies. But early today they said they believed the death toll would stand at 26. All but three of the dead were identified.

And then there is the orange grower who suggests that all salaries be predicated on the price of fruit. If the grower has to take less let the men on salaries take less. Sort of a sliding scale. He evidently thinks that when the grower slides, salaries should also slide.

Read an article a few days ago where a father made an appeal to automobile drivers to be careful and not kill his little seven-year-old girl, who was starting to school. He said he wouldn't hurt his little girl, so he thought it was only fair to ask you not to hurt his little girl. It was the appealing pathos of a father who was worried for fear that his little girl that he liked to play with, who was sprightly as a deer and loved life, was on her way to school. He wanted her to come home safely, and put a lot of the responsibility for her home-coming on you and you.

If you do not care much for human life or the pathetic appeal of a father, you won't be interested, but if you have a little girl of your own—your heart will respond to this father's request for her safety.

Now that patriotism is being fanned into a blaze by wars and rumors of wars, I wonder how many can quote the constitution as to their personal rights if and when they may be summoned before tribunals seeking information on subjects relevant or irrelevant. Better brush up on the document so you will be able to defend your existing prerogatives under that mellifluous guarantee.

DEMOCRATS OF N. Y. NOMINATE GOV. LEHMAN

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—A party platform endorsing the "vision and leadership" of President Roosevelt was adopted by New York's Democratic state convention today as it prepared to renominate Governor Lehman for a fourth term.

The platform, reportedly dictated in part by the governor was presented to the conclave shortly after Lehman, once termed "my good right arm" by the President, yielded to the demand of party leaders that he make the gubernatorial race against Manhattan's district attorney, Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee.

"We acclaim the courage, vision and leadership of the President of the United States," it read. . . . His administration has restored the confidence of the people and strengthened the pillars of democracy."

Referring to world conditions the platform said:

"As we meet, the rays of peace have pierced the clouds of war that hovered over nations across the sea."

"We rejoice that ours is a nation of peace and that our Democratic President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, has been instrumental in bringing the nations of Europe into concord."

"May God inspire and strengthen his efforts to preserve the peace of the world."

Farmer's Wife Throws Mean Brick

GAFFNEY, S. C. (AP)—The hawks and weasels had better let Mrs. Hettie White's hens alone. Her "pitching arm" is too much for them.

A hawk measuring three feet from tip to tip attempted to make off with a prized fowl from her yard. She surprised the raider in the act, picked up a brick and brought him down.

A full-grown weasel had tried the same trick a little earlier.

Spaniards Throw Everything But the Bull

ZARAGOZA, Spain. (AP)—When a bullfighter puts on an especially daring act, Spaniards show their appreciation by tossing hats, fans, coats, wine pouches and cigars into the arena.

The toreador and his assistants don't mind the trouble of tossing the articles back into the stands. It wouldn't have been a genuine ovation otherwise.

GROUP FORMED IN FULLERTON TO BACK BILL

FULLERTON. — Joining other communities of Orange county in an intensive campaign to acquaint citizens of Orange county with the merits of initiative proposition No. 1 which will appear on the state ballot on Nov. 8, a Fullerton committee representing the California Committee for Peace in Industrial Relations met last night in offices of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce.

B. W. Robinson, Fullerton market operator, presided over the meeting as chairman. Other members of the committee include Rufus Porter, W. Kee Maxwell, Mrs. W. J. Frank, Irma Ferris, Mrs. A. Z. T. Osborne, Charles Fallert, H. H. Kohlenberger, A. L. Foster, Ralph J. McFadden and E. Steffen-sen.

H. O. Easton, chairman of the county-wide committee which will have branches in all communities of the county, attended the Fullerton meeting last night to aid with campaign plans.

Chairman Robinson outlined provisions of the statute. "This is a measure," he said, "which affirms the principle of collective bargaining and the right to strike and at the same time protects employees from coercion and intimidation from any source. It opens the door for true collective bargaining to be governed by democratic processes unhampered by dictatorial controls."

"To the general public it assures the free and lawful use of streets, highways, wharves and other public places for the movement of all commodities. Therefore it may be truthfully stated that the measure is not 'anti-union,' is not 'anti-labor,' but rather is definitely against the abuse of power. It protects the consumer, who in the end must pay the terrific cost of industrial warfare."

"Picketing is not prohibited, but is restricted to prevent abuses which have become intolerable. The measure will protect the employee in his lawful right to join a union of his choosing, or to join no union. Sit-down strikes would be specifically prohibited."

First Artist in Concert Series

Ezio Pinza, famous Italian basso from Metropolitan Opera company, who will be heard on the evening of October 17, in the high school auditorium. Pinza is being presented here as the first attraction on the Artists Concert Series, and will be heard in one of his well known song recitals.

Fannie Brice Promises She Comply With Mate's Request For Divorce Suit Today

LOS ANGELES. (AP) — A year ago, Billy Rose, who is 38, said he was going to ask Fannie Brice, who doesn't give her age, to divorce him so he could marry Eleanor Holm, who is 24.

Today, Fannie will take the first legal step to comply with her third husband's repeated request for freedom.

Martin Gang, the actress' attorney, announced yesterday that Fannie's suit for divorce would be filed here in superior court today.

Although Rose, short-statured, stage of big spectacles, and Eleanor, a swimmer who doesn't follow conventional training formulas, have been telling reporters for months about their "if" engagement, Miss Brice will not name Miss Holm in her action. Gang inferred. She will charge mental cruelty and desertion and she will not ask alimony, Gang added.

Eleanor's husband, singing Art Jarrett, was more aware of his wife's "romantic talk." When he divorced her here last June, he said that all that talk about his wife wanting to marry Billy Rose "caused me great mental anguish and embarrassment."

DRIVER GETS MENTAL TEST

Arraignment of Milton Wees, Anaheim salesman who assertedly killed an aged woman crossing a street in her wheel chair, today was postponed two weeks while an alienist examines his mental condition.

Wees was arraigned today before Superior Judge James L. Allen, then ordered to the county hospital, where Dr. Franklin Van Meter, psychiatrist of Norwalk state hospital, will inquire into his sanity. He is charged with negligent homicide and felony hit-run driving in the death Oct. 14 of Mrs. Martha Hubbard, killed by a speeding car while she was being pushed across a street in her wheel chair.

Prices Trimmed on Pontiac Autos

DETROIT. (AP)—Price reductions of from $20 to $25 on its existing six-cylinder line and from $20 to $40 on eight-cylinder models were announced today by the Pontiac division of General Motors corporation.

At the same time the company announced the addition of a new lower priced six-cylinder model.

Holland to Face Court Next Friday

Sidney DeForest Holland 40-year-old Santa Ana mechanic, will face arraignment in superior court next Friday on a felony charge of flying an airplane while intoxicated.

Information against Holland was filed today in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court, and Holland will be asked for a plea next week. The defendant was arrested by Santa Ana police July 3 when he lighted from a plane which assertedly had been stunting low over Santa Ana.

1 Just Found Out About Orange County

By BOB SWANSON

Samaritans

Two "good samaritans of the highway" are on duty in Orange county. Their job is to keep an eye peeled for defects in roads, for motorists stalled by the roadside, and even report traffic violators.

From morning to night they ride three-wheeled motorcycles that are loaded to the hilt with first aid kits, tools, signs, tow rope, jacks, spare parts. They are prepared to give first aid to automobiles or humans.

These "samaritans" are members of the highway patrol force of the Southern California Automobile club, and they make regular trips through Orange county every day. You'll recognize them because they are uniformed, and always ride the blue "three-corner" motorcycles.

Two men patrolling the Orange county sector for the auto club are John Landell, of San Juan Capistrano, and Bill Buckingham, of Los Angeles. Both leave Los Angeles at 8 a. m., take separate routes, meet at San Juan Capistrano about 2 p. m., then start return trips.

One covers the coast highway, the other goes through Whittier, Fullerton, Anaheim, Santa Ana, and on to Capistrano over U. S. highway 101.

They report anything that is out of order on the highways—bridges out, detours, washouts—and take care, without cost, of any automobile stalled by the roadside.

Majority of their work is fixing minor mechanical defects on automobiles, such as changing tires, filling empty gas tanks, fixing ignition trouble. They render aid at the scene of accidents, call police and hospital authorities.

Each "samaritan" carries a list of numbers of stolen cars, have the authority to stop any stolen car and hold the driver for arrest. They report drunk drivers or speeders to police.

Whenever there are special occasions where traffic is bound to be heavy, auto patrolmen are concentrated there from all areas to help in the moving of traffic. Any special emergency, such as the Orange county floods, brings a large force to assist police authorities.

It takes a full day for Landell and Buckingham to make the round trip. They travel about 35 miles per hour, frequently go far off their route to check on an emergency or to assist a motorist. Each patrolman checks the garages along his route daily for late accident reports.

On their motorcycles all day long, they travel the thousands of miles every month. Landell and Buckingham have been on the Orange county run for three years.

During the winter rains, the "samaritans" wear rubber uniforms which cover them from head to foot.

Despite the relative hazards of the small vehicle and the number of miles traveled, no auto club patrolman in Southern California has ever been involved in a serious accident, according to Elmer Heidt, of the Santa Ana office. He says that's proof that highway accidents could virtually be eliminated if motorists so desired.

Each motorcycle is a virtual doctor's office and garage on wheels. Here's some of the articles carried: complete first aid kit, red flares, red flags, detour signs (from 10 to 15 of them), complete set of tools, tow rope or chain, fire extinguishers, shovels, and brooms to sweep broken glass off highways. Every article is packed away to take a minimum amount of space.

The patrolmen are largely the eyes and the ears of the automobile club. During the flood, for example, they were on the scene checking highways, reporting to their offices on the ones washed out and the roads still open. This information was flashed to all branch offices telling of the situation of the roads in that area.

When Landell and Buckingham meet at San Juan Capistrano, they also meet another patrolman from San Diego county. They sometimes have information to exchange for delivery to various branch offices.

A rigid examination is required to become a patrolman for the auto club. Applicants spend six months studying in the auto club's garage in Los Angeles learning "automobile first aid." They must also pass the Red Cross first aid requirements.

They can put the first aid training to good use. Because they are on the highways throughout the day, they see many wrecks occur, can render first aid immediately, then call officials.

Newport's $533,092 Bond Election Postponed Until Oct. 31

NEW DATE SET AT SPECIAL COUNCIL MEET

NEWPORT BEACH.—Voters will go to the polls Oct. 31 to decide the fate of a bond issue for $533,092, the city's share of a proposed $533,092 PWA improvement project.

The new date was set in a special session of the city council yesterday. The election was changed from the original date of Oct. 17 in order to allow 30 days to elapse following the calling of a bond election, as required by law.

The "master plan" of improvement, recommended by the city planning commission to the council, include the following projects:

- 1. New city hall, police station and jail, $90,000.
- 2. Additions to water system, $141,819.
- 3. Sewer reconstruction, $27,273.
- 4. Newport pier improvements, $25,000.
- 5. Improvements at Balboa, including an auto park, $115,000.
- 6. Civic and recreational hall at Corona Del Mar, $34,000.

Approval of a 45 per cent grant from the PWA is expected soon. A two-thirds favorable vote will be required to carry the election, which will be held at consolidated precincts. No. 1 will remain the same. Precincts 2 and 3 will be combined, as will 4 and 5, 6 and 7.

BREA CHAPTER OF RED CROSS NAMES CHIEFS

DON'T LET YOUR NERVES GET TIRED, UPSET!

Irish Setter

Native of Ireland. Believed to be a cross of English setter, spaniel and pointer. Originally red and white in coloring. Today's standards call for solid mahogany red or rich golden chestnut. Essentially a gun dog. Bold, hardy, yet remarkably gentle nature. Noted for long life.

He's giving his nerves a rest...and so is she

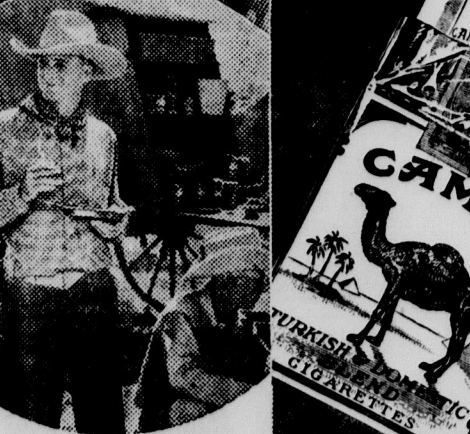

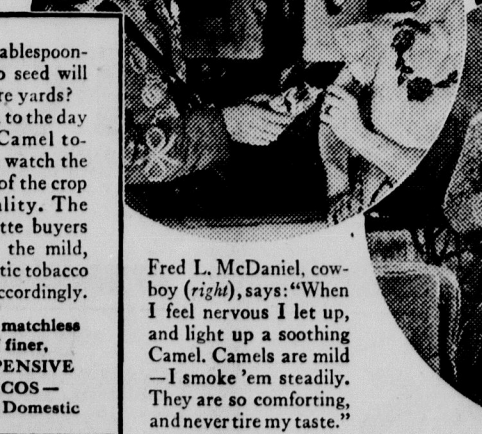

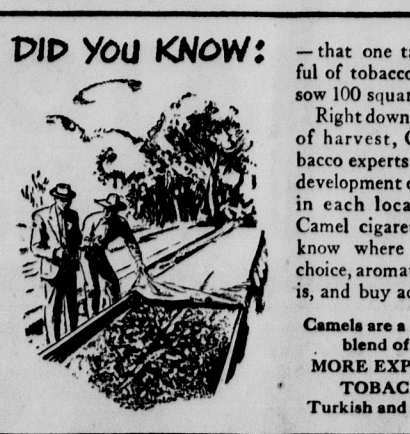

THE DOG pictured above has a nervous system amazingly similar to yours, with this difference: It is the nature of the dog to rest when he needs rest. It is the nature of mankind to drive on...until nerves jerk and twitch...until you are cross and irritable...tired out without knowing it. No matter which of the common forms of tenseness you feel, try this experiment: Ease up and enjoy a Camel. Camels are made from costlier tobaccos. They are so mild and comforting. Smokers find that "Let up—light up a Camel" puts more zest into life, and that Camel's costlier tobaccos soothe their nerves.

"Let up—light up a Camel" puts more joy into living

Terrell Jacobs, lion trainer, and "Tony" Concello, circus aerialist (right), both testify to the value of "Let up—light up a Camel." "Animals can spring into instant action—then relax," says Jacobs. "We are apt to get our nerves all wound up with our tense way of living—can't let go. I find that Camels soothe my nerves." "Terrell's right," Miss Concello says. "When my nerves are tired, a Camel helps them to rest."

HOLMES BISHOP DEFENDS BILL NO. 1 IN TALK

BAKERSFIELD.—Preservation of true collective bargaining and organization for labor is offered by proposition No. 1 on the November ballot, Holmes Bishop, of Orange county, president of the Associated Farmers of California, declared last night in a speech at Shafter.

Commenting on a statement by Haggerty that the attempt to regulate labor activities in California is the "opening gun" of a nationwide struggle to crush the trade union movement, Bishop pointed out it was solely a California measure. Secondly, he declared that "if unionism must depend on force, violence, intimidation and coercion to recruit its membership, then there must be something wrong with unionism."

"This labor initiative will stop abuse of the majority of workers by the minority," Bishop said, in explaining the majority rule clause of the proposition. "It provides that a majority of the bona fide employees in a primary strike may designate certain of their number to act as pickets. This will stop

Announcement was made today of the appointment of the Rev. Charles Nugent, above, as pastor of the Church of God at Santa Ana Gardens. A fellowship meeting and rally will be held at the church Oct. 16.

The common practice to 'plant' a single union member in a place of employment and create a strike, forcing the picket line upon the remaining employees and the employer to act as pickets. This will stop

HATCHET MEN KILL CHINESE

SHANGHAI. (AP)—Tang Shao-Yi, former Chinese revolutionary leader and first premier of the Chinese republic, died today after an operation to remove a hatchet buried in his skull.

Three assailants gained entrance to the home of the 78-year-old retired official on the pretext that they were presenting him with honorary scrolls. They pulled hatchets from the scrolls and attacked him, escaping in a stolen automobile which they later abandoned.

YOUNG VOTERS' FETE
PASADENA. (AP)—The city will fete young voters Oct. 27 in a public ceremony at the municipal auditorium for all who have or will reach the age of 21 this year.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE
LAWS SHOULD FOLLOW
UNIFORM PATTERN

Our department has ever been imbued with the pioneer instinct. Many of the discussions which have been waged here have proven milestones along the way of progress, both civil and social.

Today a constitutional amendment, which would abolish the 37 various grounds for divorce among the 48 states and establish five grounds for the entire nation, together with standard federal marriage requirements, may soon be a reality.

Sen. Arthur Capper of Kansas, according to one of the current picture magazines, will present such a resolution at the next session of congress.

The case of James McDonald III of California, who was married twice and divorced twice in the same day, is given as an example of the marital mix-ups which are possible under present laws.

These laws, according to a state-by-state chart accompanying the magazine story, range from the 12 grounds for divorce in Alabama to no grounds whatever in South Carolina.

This department could contribute some interesting case histories, too, of both husbands and wives who have skipped states like they would skip rope to make matrimony come out to suit them under the guise of "legal." Men are the greatest offenders in this respect, if we are to judge from the problems presented here. And invariably the children are the ones who suffer.

If there ever was a crying need for a uniform law right now, it is this one, and let us hope that everyone who is interested will pull for it and put an end to this ever-

WOMAN SAVED IN MID-OCEAN

NEW YORK. (AP)—Capt. Karl Steincke, of the Hamburg-American liner Deutschland, today told of a dramatic rescue of a woman passenger who plunged into the sea as the ship neared New York. He said that Mrs. Martha Bach, 37, of Hubbard Wood, Ill., was pulled aboard a lifeboat yesterday 20 minutes after she fell from a porthole.

Mrs. Bach was recovering in the ship's hospital today when the Deutschland docked. The ship stopped her engines and turned from her course to circle the spot after sailors marked the position with smoke flares.

growing farce of slipshod, speedy marrying and divorce.

25 Pct. Advance Made In Auto Production

DETROIT. (AP)—An advance of approximately 25 per cent in automotive production for the second consecutive week was reported today by Ward's automotive reports, which predicts a "pronounced advance in auto industry operations during the period ahead."

Ward's estimated this week's production of cars and trucks at 25,405, as compared with 20,390 last week and 44,330 in this week a year ago.

STORM AREA TESTS FOOD

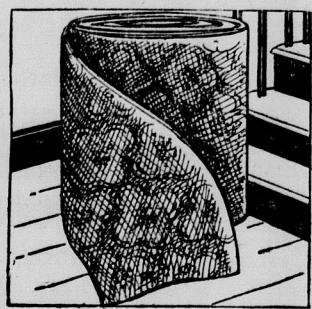

BOSTON. (AP)—Massachusetts health officials ordered bacteriological elimination of foodstuff shipments from Rhode Island hurricane areas today, as other state officials moved against storm profiteers.

The Boston and Albany railroad announced resumption of through train service to New York via Springfield, Mass., and Hartford, Conn., for the first time since the Sept. 21 hurricane.

The known storm dead remained at 508, divided as follows: Rhode Island, 272; Massachusetts, 134; Connecticut, 82; New Hampshire, 13; and Vermont, 7.

S. A. DRUG STORE BANDITS BELIEVED BUENA PARK RAIDERS

LIQUOR SHOP
ROBBED; COMB
IS ONLY CLUE

Two young bandits, believed to be the same pair which has held up two Santa Ana drug stores within the past week, robbed a Buena Park liquor store of $51 at the point of an automatic pistol last night.

Monty Chilcoat, attendant, told Deputy Sheriffs Harvey Gulick and Frank Cagle the two men walked into the store shortly after 9 p. m. yesterday and ordered two cans of beer. When Chilcoat put the beer on the counter, one reached into his pocket and pulled out the pistol.

"Keep your hands on the counter," he growled. "Don't move or I'll make daylight through you." "Go ahead and get it," he told his companion. The second man then walked behind the counter, opened the cash register and scooped out $43 in bills and change, leaving but a few pennies. Then he walked up behind the attendant, fumbled nervously with Chilcoat's hip pocket and removed his wallet, taking $8 out of it and throwing the wallet on the floor.

Then the second bandit left, and the first forced Chilcoat to walk to the front door with his hands folded on his chest. As Chilcoat walked out the door, the gunmen slipped off through a vacant lot. Deputies picked up a pocket comb from the ground in the direction the two bandits took, and were checking it for fingerprints today.

Chilcoat gave officers the following description of the holdup men:

No. 1—5 feet 9 inches tall, 160 pounds, 22-23 years old, light complexion, dark hair, small dark mustache, white shirt, no hat, no tie, no coat.

No. 2—5 feet 6 inches tall, 150 pounds, light complexion, dark brown hair, sport jacket, small mustache.

MEN'S OCTETTE
TO BE FORMED

Tryouts for selection of a men's singing octette at Santa Ana Junior college will be held Monday, Miss Myrtle A. Martin, head of the music department, announced today.

Each year an octette is chosen from the men's chorus which performs for county service clubs and other organizations, Miss Martin said. First semester octette last year was composed of Wilbur Marsters, Bruce Buell, Franklin Guthrie, Stanley Sebastian, Louis Towers, Horace Evans, Mac Beall, and James Haarstad.

Another project to be worked on this year is an all-musical play which will be presented by the combined men's and women's choruses. Last year the music department presented "Howdy, Stanger," three-act operetta.

WRIT ON MILK
LAW UPHELD

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The supreme court today denied the petition of A. A. Brock, state director of agriculture for a writ of prohibition to dissolve a Los Angeles superior court injunction against enforcement of the milk stabilization act.

The temporary injunction was issued recently on petition of various Los Angeles milk concerns which contended certain provisions of the act were unconstitutional.

DR. CARL KNOPF
ABOUT BIBLE

Dr. Carl S. Knopf, dean of the School of Religion of the University of Southern California, was introduced last night to a large audience in the Willard auditorium by Dr. Margaret Baker.

"No one denies that the Bible is ancient, oriental, Hebraic literature and that it is religious in content," he said. "Many fail to take this background of facts into consideration when reading it. The understanding of any literature is dependent upon an understanding of the people and times in which it was written. The Bible is ancient literature. It records the story of peoples living 2000 years ago or more—but truth is ageless."

Dr. Knopf started to give the time chart of the Old Testament. Next week he will continue this analysis. Those who attend will receive mimeographed copies of his chart and a list of the books available at the city library which will bear on his lecture series. This series will continue on Thursday evenings at 7:30 for the next three weeks.

There is no admission and any one interested is invited to attend. Dr. Knopf is brought to Santa Ana by the Willard Evening High school.

NUT HARVEST
ON; CHILDREN
MUST STUDY

With the walnut harvest swinging under way, the county schools department warned today that students under 16 years of age will not be permitted to miss classes for employment in walnut groves.

Part day classes are legally impossible to arrange, and children will be required to be in class full time, W. W. Mendenhall, supervisor of child welfare, said.

The announcement intended to remove a current misunderstanding—followed a conference this morning between Mendenhall and Leo Vander Lans, of Long Beach, state labor commissioner.

Not only are parents responsible, but owners and contractors as well are held responsible, Mendenhall warned. Only exception being made is for the students of the Mexican schools in Orange and El Modena. Those two schools started the fall session Aug. 1 in order to provide a child's vacation for Mexican children desiring to help their parents in the walnut harvest.

The county schools department is permitted to issue full-time work permits to any students over 16 years of age, Mendenhall explained. Mendenhall was busy today sending notices of the state regulation to growers throughout the county.

The state school code provides that any employer hiring children under 18 years of age must obtain a work permit from the county schools department.

Unlicensed Driver

8 Years After
Murder, Suspect
Is Held in L. A.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wanted for the slaying of a negro night watchman in a Los Angeles cleaning plant eight years ago, Edward J. Rollins, 37, was under arrest here today.

Rollins and six others were indicted in Los Angeles early this month on charges of murdering Roy Stockman in a cleaning industry price war.

Stockman's slaying, for years, was believed to have occurred during an attempted robbery of the plant. Recently Deputy District Attorney George Stahlman took this background of facts into consideration when three men went to the establishment to throw acid on clothing there.

HONOR SOCIETY
AT J. C. MAPS
YEAR'S WORK

Plans of Beta Gamma, extra-curricular honor society at Santa Ana Junior college, were today outlined by President Donn Hart for the current school year.

The organization is conducting an automobile park at the Municipal bowl during football games, proceeds of which will go to graduation prizes offered each year, Hart said. The club donates a $25 cash award to the student who has gained highest recognition as a leader in scholarship as well as extra-curricular activities.

According to present plans, it is hoped that another award can be presented at commencement time, President Hart revealed. Under the present set-up proceeds of the parking lot have been used to cover expense, and with addition of another parking lot, it is hoped that the program can be carried out, Hart explained.

Besides Hart, the other officer is Josephine Butler, secretary-treasurer. Faculty advisors are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. Flint and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Tessmann.

FLASHLIGHTERS
NUMBER 150

With approximately 150 students signed up in the Santa Ana Junior college flashlight section, everything was ready for its initial performance at tonight's football game in the Municipal bowl.

The students will put on their stunts during halftime. The group held final rehearsal last night under the direction of Donn Hart, chairman.

The Piloteers, women's service club, made the cardboard forms in which different colored cellophane slices will be inserted. President Merle Swingle was in charge, assisted by other members of the club.

Evening Party At Country Club Is Most Enjoyable

Filled to capacity, the long ballroom of the Santa Ana Country club was setting last night for one of the most enjoyable public parties of the year, when more than one hundred couples attended a benefit bridge sponsored by directors' wives to raise money to complete their clubhouse rejuvenation project that has already resulted in smart new upholstery and draperies.

Brilliant-toned furnishings set off the clubhouse furnishings last night, and formed a colorful background for the bridge players, many of whom chose formal gowns as appropriate attire. Mrs. Hugh J. Lowe, charming in her decollete frock of black velvet, was general chairman of the party, and was assisted in making announcements by Mrs. A. G. Flagg, in soft cream lace. The latter's daughter, Mrs. Riley Huber, aided in passing out the many beautiful prizes at the close of the evening.

High-scoring couples, each of whom received a card table, "one Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ewert and Mr. and Mrs. Tevis Westgate. High-scoring among the ladies were Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. G. Stanley Norton, and Mrs. W. D. Ranney, while men prize-winners were Mrs. Ralph Barker, Mrs. William Stauffer, Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth, Mrs. Robert Gould, Mrs. George Ostrander, Mrs. Harvey Spears, Mrs. E. T. McFadden, and L. D. Coffing.

Of the many special prizes, winners were Mrs. Ralph Barker, Mrs. William Stauffer, Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth, Mrs. Robert Gould, Mrs. George Ostrander, Mrs. Harvey Spears, Mrs. E. T. McFadden, and L. D. Coffing.

Winner of a handsome bedspread donated by Ray Chandler was Mrs. Chester S. Warren. In the receiving line were Mrs. William Jeffrey, Mrs. Don Andrews, Mrs. E. D. Holmes, Mrs. R. A. Emison, besides Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Flagg, and Mrs. Huber.

Mrs. Emison, as chairman of the refreshment committee, invited nine of the feminine guests to assist her in presiding over the long tables where chocolate, coffee, sandwiches and cakes were dispensed. In this group of gracious assistants were Mrs. Fredric Dunstan, Mrs. Clarence Jordan, Mrs. Walter Vandermast, Mrs. Will Spurgeon, Mrs. Robert Weston, Mrs. Rex Kennerly, Mrs. E. Farnsworth, Mrs. J. R. Stephens, and Mrs. Lawrence Poole.

POTLUCK DINNER FOLLOWED BY MEETING

The state organization of Public Health Nurses, unit No. 8, of Orange county, met in Santiago park on Wednesday where a potluck supper was enjoyed.

An informative meeting followed the dinner, and the amusement hall, reserved for that purpose. A resume of various subjects of interest to be studied during the year was given.

Lay members reported as follows: Mrs. Jessie Hayden of Huntington Beach, "Tuberculosis"; Mrs. Roy Ropp of Laguna Beach, "Birth Control"; Mrs. Newell Moore, "Mental Hygiene"; Mrs. E. Kate Rae of Anaheim, "Crippled Children"; and Mrs. Walter Humphreys of Fullerton, "Dental Care."

The members present from Santa Ana were Grace Denman, Jean Curtiss, Velma Jostin, Edith Pithie, Vena Jones, Florence Holmes, Helen Mark, Clarissa Fowler, Helen Gramlich, Margaret Van Scoyoc, Ellen Smith, Mrs. Jessie Hay of Huntington Beach, Alice Freeman, Mrs. Roy Ropp and Erma Cotton of Laguna Beach, Mrs. Walter Humphreys, Lydia Koonst, and Imogene Abbey of Fullerton, Amelia Meagher and Estelle Burch of Los Angeles, Gretha Clark of Newport Beach, Margaret Kuehl, Adelaide Price, Mrs. E. Kate Rae of Anaheim, Irene Preble of Tustin, Cora Pickenpaugh of Placentia. New members included Mrs. Balch, Hazel Davis, Leona Wunderlich, Marian Oakley, and Frieda Weersing, and visitors included Miss Josephine Koning, Laura Stephens, Mrs. J. W. Dowds, M. J. J. Dowds, and Virginia and Betty Oakley. The next meeting will be held sometime in October at the Orange County hospital.

DAUGHTERS INITIATE ONE

Mrs. Fannie Nau presided for Mrs. Ella Smith over a meeting of Daughters of Union Veterans this week because of the latter's illness. At the session it was also announced that Mrs. Esther Gardner, a prominent member, is seriously ill.

Initiated into the group was Mrs. Mildred Sullivan, and warmly welcomed was Mrs. Ella McCord, long absent with a broken ankle. Also greeted were two visitors, Mrs. Iva E. Jackson of Kansas and Mrs. Eunice Beers of Oregon.

Mrs. Beren Baker and Mrs. Edith Troxel will be in charge of a potluck luncheon Oct. 28.

One Hundred Attend Tea At King Home

Injecting the same enthusiasm into a purely social affair as they ordinarily do in their study of current events and world problems, members of the League of Women Voters yesterday entertained approximately 100 interested matrons and misses at a delightful tea in the home of Mrs. Loyal K. King on North Park boulevard.

The charm of the new colonial home with its interesting appointments was augmented by the graciousness of Mrs. King, Mrs. Felton Browning who is president of the organization, and the several prominent matrons who assisted in greeting the guests. The latter were free to go through the house to the brick terrace in the garden, or to linger in the long drawing room with its decorative note of giraffe dahlias, some in deep red and others in yellow, that had been shown and had won prizes the night before at the Kiwanis dahlia show.

Standing with Mrs. Browning in her softly draped white lace hostess gown was her mother, Mrs. Janet McKay, national secretary and speaker in women's work of the denomination, will be heard on the afternoon program.

In the dining room was the long tea table over which, during the first hour, from three-thirty to four-thirty, Mrs. Carl Mock and Mrs. M. E. Geeting presided. The second hour found Mrs. Ora K. Heine and Mrs. J. D. Campbell officiating. All four are past presidents of the league, and were gracious figures in their long frocks.

Mrs. Mock in regal white crepe, Mrs. Geeting in soft pink, Mrs. Heine in a blue-toned print, and Mrs. Campbell in royal blue with a smart shirred bolero.

Centering the table was an unique and effective arrangement of vivid tuberosus begonias. Of varied shapes and striking colors, the blossoms, gift of Mrs. Kenneth Morrison, were much admired during the afternoon. Also coming in for its share of admiration was the handsome silver tea service at one end of the table loaned by Mrs. David Howell, and used for the first time since her husband presented it to her on their recent trip to Mexico.

Mrs. C. W. Harrison was chairman of the tea, and was assisted in her dining room duties by Mrs. Aldric Worswick, Mrs. W. T. Lambert and Mrs. P. R. Aronid.

VISITOR HONORED AT BRIDGE PARTY

A popular southland visitor, Mrs. Curtiss Allen of Monterey, is being widely entertained in Santa Ana while with her sister, Mrs. Harold Maylen.

Mrs. Paul Henderson entertained with a desert-bridge yesterday afternoon in Mrs. Allen's honor when she received two tables for bridge in her home at 1219 Sout Ross street. Dessert was served preceding bridge play at individual tables which had been centered with flowers.

Prizes went to Mrs. Charles Rumell, Mrs. Paul Carnahan, Mrs. Helen McCollum, and a special gift prize was presented Mrs. Allen.

Invited to share the hospitality of the affair were Mrs. Harold Maylen, Mrs. John Vernon, Mrs. Joe Steele, Mrs. Charles Rumell, Mrs. Paul Carnahan, Mrs. Helen McCollum, the guest of honor and the hostess.

LUNCHEON IS SUCCEEDED BY BUSINESS MEET

Extending the hospitality of her lovely Orangeford avenue home, Mrs. Otto S. Russell was hostess to the members of the executive board of the Woman's society of the First Baptist church Wednesday. Preceding a business meeting, Mrs. Russell served luncheon, and a social hour was enjoyed before plans for the coming year were discussed.

Presiding over the business session, Mrs. Russell Crouse announced three coming events of interest to the women, the first of which will be the all-church social Friday at 7:30 p. m., Miss Lulu Shepherd, civic chairman of the Federation of Church Women, will be the guest speaker on October 5 when there will be an all-day meeting at the church. Mrs. W. A. Aikinson, president of the Women's Missionary society of the Santa Ana Valley Baptist association, informed the board of an invitation to the Worker's conference, which is scheduled for the early part of October, and it was voted to invite the American Association of University Women to participate in the gathering.

GOHRESES NAME NEW BABY

The seven-pound son born Wednesday at St. Joseph's hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Gohres (Nettie Smith) has been named Phillip Hubert, it was announced today.

Both mother and son are doing nicely. The baby was the 51st to be born at the hospital this month.

The Misses Montgomery Entertain

The Misses Gertrude and Louise Montgomery gave another in their series of charming luncheons Wednesday in the summr home at Newport Beach that they continue to occupy during the warmth of fall weather. Colorful autumn flowers added charm to the comfortable rooms overlooking the ocean, and small luncheon tables were centered with small mirrors representing pools of water. Each was made to represent a different site, and the hostesses had cleverly fashioned shells in various forms to complete the scenes.

Chinese checkers was the afternoon's diversion, with prizes going to Mrs. Coraly Thompson, Miss Frances Roberts of Los Angeles, and Miss Ann Segerstrom. Guests at the affair were Mrs. Charles Swanner, Mrs. Coraly Thompson, Miss Frances Roberts, Miss Ann Segerstrom, Miss Lulu Shepherd, Miss Effie Douglas, Miss Pauline Parsons, Miss Leona Tompkins, Miss Georgia Bradley, and Miss Mary Wakeham, with the hostess duo.

SATURDAY'S BRIDE HONOREE AT SHOWER

Because Miss Marie La Broucherie, daughter of the Albert La Broucherie of Santa Ana, will become the bride of Howard Elliott this Saturday at a quiet ceremony in Los Angeles, Mrs. Daniel Jones, Mrs. Mildred Windolph and Miss Dolphina Lopez formed a hostess trio Wednesday evening, honoring the bride-elect at a linen shower.

The pretty Bush street apartment of Mrs. Jones had been made gay with a coral and white color scheme in the decorations. Bridge was played during the evening, with Miss Mary Ford and Miss Lucy McDermott awarded prizes for high scores. Refreshments were served following the opening of the honoree's many lovely gifts.

With Miss La Broucherie and the hostess trio were Mrs. Jack Anderson of Alhambra, Mrs. Jesse Parks of Anaheim, Mrs. Robert Collins of Capistrano, Mrs. Arthur Flint of Los Angeles, Miss Isabel Siracusa of Huntington Beach, Misses Catherine Wallbridge, Mary Ford, Ruth Stephenson, Eunice Spier, Jean Emma, Loreta Long, Lois Taylor, Mary Louisa Wallace, Catherine Chapman, Lillian McDonald, Lillie Forberg, Lena Mae Wilsey, Lucy McDermott, and Mrs. Sam Cash, all of Santa Ana.

DEPARTING MEMBER IS HONORED

Mrs. Stanley Hardin received members of X. N. O. club in her home on Maple street this week, and in recognition of the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. E. E. Perry and Mrs. M. O. Johnson, served refreshments of birthday cake and ice cream.

An event of the day, too, was the showering of handkerchiefs upon Mrs. Johnson, who moves to Azusa this week, where her husband has been appointed manager of the J. C. Penney company store. Mrs. Johnson invited the group to meet with her in her new home Oct. 12.

Unable to be present were Mrs. E. E. Edwards and Mrs. W. E. Webb, but in attendance were the Mesdames A. R. Bennett, W. R. Edwards, B. A. Hershey, M. O. Johnson, R. A. McPhee, E. E. Perry, H. R. Tropp and J. D. Manning.

TUBBS HAVE VISITOR

Mr. and Mrs. John Tubbs of Lemon Heights have had as their guest for the past ten days the latter's brother, Dr. Irving Young of New Orleans, La., and former Santa Ana.

His visit was highlighted by taking in the U. S. C. Alabama game, attending the Los Angeles county fair, and visiting his numerous friends in Orange county.

THE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Here and There With Southern California Artists
By DONALD BUTTON

INTIMATE MUSIC

Reading of the enthusiasm with which people of San Marino are preparing for a chamber music season, I wondered "why not in Santa Ana, too?"

An old custom holding from the days when only kings and courts were privileged to hear creative music, it is being increasingly revived in Southern California.

Concerts are scheduled for U. S. C. for Pomona college, for Occidental, and Pasadena, with considerable emphasis upon the play-ers. In San Marino they will be principally concerned with the music, as it should be, and the composer.

From the "I see by the papers" attitude, Santa Ana is too socially busy to take the "burden" of chamber music. Society is benefi- and brief-minded.

Those who are culturally concerned should take great delight in intimate music, devoted not only to modern composers with national reputations, but Orange county composers as well.

Last May's program clearly demonstrated that we have musical ability in our midst. Let's encourage it through the medium of chamber music!

CONVENTION PLANS ANNOUNCED

Rho chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma of Orange county met at the library for a dinner one evening this week. Red roses, the chapter flower, were used with white can- dles as decorations on the tables, and these had been arranged by Mrs. Margaretha Bolte, social chairman of the group.

A business session followed the dinner with Myrtle V. Stuelke pre- siding. Plans were announced for the state convention of the so- rority which will be held at Hun- tington hotel in Pasadena Novem- ber 25 and 26.

Florence McCoy, program chair- man, introduced Miss Olive Potter of the state convention of the so- rority which will be held at Hun- tington hotel in Pasadena Novem- ber 25 and 26.

Special guests attending the meeting were Ethel Evans, Mrs. Alta Proud, Mrs. Marjory Dudley, Mrs. Pauline Merchant, Miss Hu- bertson Kueneman, and Miss Pot- ter. Members attending were Mrs. M. Fanny Bragg, Miss Mary Fri- cilla Allen, Mrs. Margaretha Bolte, Mrs. Dora P. Gilles, Miss Helen Kirkland, Miss B. Pearl Nicholson, Miss Vanche E. Plumb, Miss Nora Reid, Mrs. Jennie Tessmann, Mrs. Edith W. Thatcher, and Miss Ma- bel Whiting. Mrs. Velda Barnes of Garden Grove, Mrs. Ethel Coverly, Miss Clara Mork, Miss Verna Rigdon, Mrs. Bernice Schacht, Mrs. Marguerite Utter of Anaheim, Miss Emma J. Kast, Mrs. Myrtle Stuelke of Fullerton, Mrs. Florence McCoy of Orange, Miss Geneva S. Heibing, Miss Agnes Smith of Huntington Beach, Miss Clara Spelman of Newport, and Mrs. Mary Lemke of Brea.

FIRST PARTY MARKS ANNIVERSARY

Miss Shirley Stauffer's fourth birthday anniversary was marked by her first party when her mother, Mrs. Alvin C. Stauffer, invited seven other little girls to share in the day's celebration with her.

The group, accompanied by Shir- ley's grandmother, Mrs. E. Water- man; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Stauffer, and her great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Godard of Long Beach, en- joyed a happy afternoon at San- tiago park, playing on the swings, teeter-totters, and various other amusement devices.

Late in the day the little girl, were seated at a table festive with yellow and white cloth, a match- ing birthday cake, and pineapple sherbet that was the requirement of the young hostess. At this time each guest found a Snow White cap and book as her particular favors, and in turn presented Shirley with the gifts that are always a part of a birthday.

Making up the party with Shir- ley were Diane Elstrom, Alice Harvey, Donna Dee Dickson, Wil- ma Lou Larson, Marcia Lee Nor- ton, Margaret Walker, and Faith Ranney.

GOLDEN STATE CAMP MEETS

When Golden State camp, Royal Neighbors of America, met on Wednesday of this week, it was for a social session. Almost half a hundred members and guests enjoyed a game of Chinese check- ers, with high score prize going to Miss Nadine Pennington and low to M. U. Martin.

Arranging details of refresh- ments and decorations were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Smith and V. J. Anderson.

ing Louis Danz speak rather briefly on "Modern Art?"

Things like this do not happen everyday in Santa Ana. But if you are not interested enough to be there, they might as well be in Cathedral City or Eureka! Your being there is what gives them meaning—for you.

And if you are of that fortunate class competing for the essay prize on this exhibition, have you started your paper yet?

NEW MANAGEMENT
Invitations to exhibit in the October-November show at La- guna Beach carry the bold asser- tion "under new management!"

The gallery is being recondi- tioned for this "opening under new management." I should not won- der if the floor painting was the best painting on view!

FALL
Return to formality in town is sensed in the number of new ex- hibitions opening in Los Angeles.

Knowing the work of Tyrus Wong and Gilbert Leung, their Chinatown exhibition is highly recommended.

Then I should like to see the Federal Project show, that of the American Artists' congress.

Raymond and Raymond have an ambitious schedule they are aug- menting with a subscription lec- ture series in which Armitage and Louis Danz are to play an im- portant part.

COMMITTEE
Holger Cahill announces that the regional painting committee (Southern California and Nevada) for the 1939 New York fair will be chairmanned by Preston Harri- son.

Barnes Miller, Fletcher Martin, Dewitt Paschall and Millard Sheets are the committeemen. It is confidently expected that some of the very best painting for the eastern show will come from this region.

Painters, naturally, will be pressed for canvases and papers when they have such important fair shows on both coasts.

Art shows at expositions attract many a person who would not go out of his way at any other time for an exhibition. In this way they do "sell" the arts to the people.

MRS. DAVY GIVES REVIEW IN FULLERTON

The Fullerton Wednesday Book club, of which Mrs. Leland Davy of Santa Ana is a member, met this week with Mrs. Fred Withers.

Mrs. Davy gave a review of Irene Kuhn's "Assigned to Ad- venture," and Mrs. E. F. Sheets reviewed Rose Wilder Lane's "Free Land." Briefer reviews were given by Mrs. Shailer Arnold of Anaheim, and Mrs. W. T. Boyce, Mrs. M. N. Bullis, and Mrs. O. H. Clever.

Mrs. Carl Sturdy presided over the meeting, the first regular one since summer vacation, for that of two weeks ago was given over to a social session at the home of the president.

Other members present were Mrs. Carl Wolfe, Mrs. A. Nelson, Mrs. Ernest Von Gruenagen, Mrs. C. W. Trotter, Mrs. Davis Steven- son, Mrs. Lynn Sheller, Mrs. Claude Russell, Mrs. M. M. Hen- derson of Garden Grove, Mrs. George Gohar, Mrs. Harold Gohar, Mrs. Fred Fuller, Mrs. W. H. Fowler, Mrs. R. A. Corbett, Miss Florence Durkee, and Mrs. Shailer Arnold of Anaheim, Mrs. Fred Withers, and Mrs. E. F. Sheets.

ANNOUNCEMENT

California Retirement Annuity club will not meet this Friday evening, as previously announced, but has been postponed until October 7. At that time the state director, Pierre Tomlinson, will be the speaker.

MAGNOLIA ENTERTAINS COUNTY LODGES

An excellent delegation of county lodges was in attendance at Magnolia camp, Royal Neigh- bors of America's guest night at M. W. A. hall this week. Net- tie Smith, local oracle, was aided in presiding by Lenora Fletcher of Long Beach, district deputy.

An enjoyable program featured Evelyn Marr, tap-dancer; Billy Ward, accordionist; Mrs. Darlene Thompson and her two perform- ing children, Bobbie and Shirley; Mrs. Ethel Brown, soloist; Arthur King, banjoist and Christine Niel- sen, leader of a skit.

Dancing concluded the evening, which also included a refreshment course served by Mrs. Daisy Scott, Mrs. Elizabeth Warren, Mrs. Ethel Manderscheid and Mrs. W. C. Drake.

ENTERTAINS EASTERN GUESTS

Mrs. Martha Van de Walker recently entertained her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Havens of Bloomington, Mich.

While the Easterners were in California they took many interest- ing side trips with the Santa Anas as their guest, as this was their first visit to California.

Mrs. Van de Walker has moved into a new home at 423 South Birch street.

IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

Mrs. Chesley Landers was host- ess to her club at an evening party in the home of her mother, Mrs. Maude Swarthout, 1239 South Ross street, on Wednesday eve- ning.

It was the group's first get- together since summer recess, and prizes at bridge went to Mrs. Raymond Marsile, high, and Mrs. James Dickson, low.

Orchid and purple asters with matching tapers were pretty adornments for the refreshment table at which were seated Mrs. Oscar Carothers, Mrs. Clifford Cole, Mrs. Raymond Marsile, Mrs. James Dickson, Mrs. Willard Swarthout, Mrs. Clyde Patton, Mrs. H. C. Carnahan, and Mrs. Bryan Ruddick of Los Angeles.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY PARTY

A delightful afternoon was ex- perienched by members of the Woman's club of Santa Ana when they filled 14 tables at a party given this week by the Afternoon Social section.

Of the three games in play, Mrs. W. M. Wallingford was prize winner at auction, Mrs. S. May Matthews at contract, and Mrs. J. G. Littrell at anagrams.

Hostesses for the day were the Mesdames L. R. Musick, Minnie Collins, Margaret Church, Jennie Clem, F. A. Martin, Linda Kroker and Earl Lepper.

TUSTIN UNION CHANGES MEETING PLACE

Tustin Women's Christian Tem- perance union will meet next Tuesday at 2 p. m. instead of Oct. 14, because the state convention will take up that date when it is in session at Long Beach. Host- ess to next week's meeting will be Mrs. Jessie Leiby, 400 West Main street.

Mrs. C. E. Utt is scheduled to discuss measures on the Novem- ber ballot, and Mrs. Mollie Ken- nedy will lead devotionals. Miss Marjorie Rawlings will lead a music period and Mrs. Cora Tor-rens will preside over election of delegates to the convention.

$900 IS GIVEN S. A. WOMAN BY THEATERS

The thrill of a lifetime came to a Santa Ana woman last night.

She is Mrs. Lyle A. Pease, of 1442 South Ross street, and she has good reason to be excited. Last night she was given $900 in the Fortunes Wheel event staged by the Broadway and West Coast theaters.

It was the first prize of any large amount that Mrs. Pease had ever won. She and her husband, who is a salesman for the Los Angeles Soap company, will use the $900 to good advantage. They plan to put it into the new home they just bought last February.

Mr. and Mrs. Pease have lived in this city for two and a half years. They lived at 1217 South Parton before moving to the new home at 1442 South Ross street.

Mrs. Pease said she and her husband didn't go to the show particularly because of a chance to win the money, as they never figured they would be lucky enough to win such a large sum. They went because they wanted to see "Too Hot to Handle," with Clark Gable and Myrna Loy, which is showing at the West Coast theater.

When it was announced by House Manager Eddie Sugden of the West Coast that Mrs. Pease had won, she and her husband hurried over to the Broadway theater to claim the prize. They arrived at the Broadway breathless and excited, and Manager George King of the Broadway and West Coast verified the fact that Mrs. Pease held the winning number.

FIREMEN PLAN SPECIAL WEEK

With Fire Prevention week opening Oct. 9, the Santa Ana fire department laid preliminary plans today for a series of fire prevention demonstrations in city schools.

Demonstrations will be conducted by firemen at each of the elementary and junior high schools throughout Fire Prevention week, it was announced by Assistant Fire Chief John Garthe.

Each program will include demonstration of fire hazards which exist in the home, plus a sound motion picture called "Sounding the Alarm."

$150 Fine Levied On Drunk Driver

Roger Valencia, 1620 West Third street, was fined $150 on drunk driving charges by City Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday.

William J. Kelly, Finley hotel, was sentenced to 180 days in the county jail on a vagrancy charge. Paul Garcia, 114 French street, was sentenced to five days in jail for intoxication.

Thomas F. Pattison, Orange, paid a $6 fine for speeding.

ADVANCE GIFT GROUP NAMED

Rex Kennedy, chairman of the advance gifts committee of the Community chest campaign, announced today the appointment of those who will assist him in the work of calling on prospective subscribers in the higher brackets of giving.

"While there are a limited number of prospects on the list of this committee, we expect to receive subscriptions of at least $100 from each of them, and to raise from this classification a considerable proportion of the campaign goal," Chairman Kennedy stated.

NEW STADIUM SANTA BARBARA.

(P)—Completion of the Santa Barbara State college football stadium with a capacity of 9000 is expected some time in November.

The committee consists of O. H. Barr, William F. Croddy, Bob Fernandez, Harvey Gardner, A. I. Mellenthin, Miss Lula Minter, R. B. Newcom, George Perkins, C. L. Pritchard, Herbert Rankin, W. D. Ranney, George S. Smith, W. H. Spurgeon, J. B. Tucker, W. B. Williams, Theodore Winnigler, John Scripps.

Chairman Kennedy announced that his group would enter the field Monday afternoon, following a noon luncheon conference at Danger's cafe.

GOLD MEDALS FOR EXCELSIOR

Excelsior creamery today boasted gold medals and other first awards in dairy products competition at the Los Angeles county fair at Pomona.

Excelsior won a gold medal award for certified milk scoring 98 per cent and over, guaranteed raw milk, and special milk. R. E. Smith of Santa Ana placed highest in competition for dairy inspectors.

WALLACE FOR COTTON PLAN

FORT WORTH, Texas, (P)—Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, vigorously defended the federal cotton control program against widespread southern criticism in an address to a farmers' meeting here today. He assailed both the domestic allotment plan and proposals for a substantially higher loan on the staple. J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture renominated this summer by a big margin, is an active advocate of the domestic allotment plan. Wallace advocated re-enactment

Ruby Livestock company of San Jose won the only other prize, for first colt, three years old and under four.

GLENN CAVE INSTALLED AS LEGION CHIEF

Glenn Cave was installed last night as new commander of the Santa Ana post, American Legion, succeeding Arthur C. Eklund. Others installed at the annual meeting in Legion hall included H. R. Brinkerhoff, first vice-commander; Ralph Mitchell, second vice-commander; Harold Rasmussen, adjutant; George Richardson, chaplain; and Mike Lynch, sergeant-at-arms. Members of the executive committee installed included Hunter Leach, Preston Turner, Grant Kyle, Orson Hunter and C. M. Featherly. Installing officer was R. R. Dinsmore, 21st district commander, of Riverside. Other features of the meeting were reading of annual reports and four acts of vaudeville entertainment. Members of the American Legion auxiliary were also present.

CIRCUS PROVES THREE RINGS OF FUN

The gala atmosphere of a circus was captured Wednesday evening when Torosa Rebekahs followed their regular business meeting with a carnival, at which side-show attractions, popcorn vendors, and a "spieler" intermingled with approximately a hundred and fifty people enjoying the fun.

Because of the absence of Mrs. Minnie Squires, who is vacationing in the north, a short meeting was conducted by Mrs. Alice Tolhurst, vice grand. Guests from Long Beach, Fullerton and Anaheim chapters of the lodge were among visitors.

The banquet rooms of the I. O. O. F. hall were thrown open for several acts, all accompanied by the Earl Lentz and Hurd orchestra. Duncan Manning and Henry Hale did a tumbling act, Velma Stroud performed on a unicycle, John Olsen and Ray Hansen gave a clarinet duet, while John Fitzpatrick acted as the master of ceremonies.

Jittery Pirates Enter 4-Game Series With Reds Cook Will Start New Backfield

CUBS FAVORED TO CAPTURE N. L. PENNANT

By DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Everyone is sounding off about the Cincinnati Reds being the team to beat next year, but it looks as though they'll have plenty to say in the National league race these next four days.

As everyone knows, the Pirates lost another to the Cubs yesterday, a 10 to 1 beating that set them a game and a half behind the league-leading Cubs. The jitter-bucs now go into a four-game series with the Reds at Cincinnati, a series that holds their last chance of winning the pennant.

The Cubs will be playing three games at St. Louis. If the Cubs win all three, the Pirates can't catch up. If Chicago drops one and Pittsburgh wins all four of its starts, including today's double-header, the Pirates will win by a single percentage point.

How the Pirates must be wishing these were the peaceful Reds of other years. Instead, it's a club that was climbed from eighth to fourth in one season, a club with a McCormick, a Vander Meer, a Lombardi, a Derringer.

Whatever they do in this four-game set-to, the Reds are bound for big things in 1939. They have come up with one of the best young first basemen of the last decade, Buck McCormick, and young Harry Craft, also completing his first year in the majors, shows signs of greatness as an outfielder.

Manager Will McKechnie thinks they will be even better next year—and the other clubs thought they were good enough back in June when they were dominating the flag fight.

THE REDS GOT INTO SHAPE FOR THE PIRATES YESTERDAY BY BEATING THE CARDINALS 7-4. JOHNNY VANDER MEER CHALKED UP HIS 14TH WIN OF THE YEAR AS ERNIE LOMBARDI COLLECTED A DOUBLE AND A SINGLE TO REGAIN THE LEAGUE BATTING LEAD.

Bill Lee, Cubs—Pitching for fourth time in four days, beat Pirates with seven hits and drove home two runs with double in 10-1 victory.

Johnny Vandermeer and Ernie Lombardi, Reds—Vander Meer checked Cardinals with seven hits and Lombardi regained National league batting leadership with double and single in 7-4 win.

Pinky Higgins, Red Sox—Collected double, two singles and drove in seven runs as Red Sox beat Washington 13-5.

Tommy Bridges, Tigers—Held St. Louis Browns to eight hits and fanned seven in winning 18th victory of season, 6-2.

Way Royster, Indians—Hit homer in tenth inning to win for tribe over Chicago, 8-8.

Danny MacFayden, Bees, and Dolph Camilli, Dodgers—MacFayden held Dodgers to nine hits in winning opener, 2-1; Camilli smacked homer, single drove in two runs as Brooks took nightcap, 5-6.

Mel Ott and Cliff Melton, Giants—Ott smacked 35th homer with man on base and Melton pitched eight hits as New York downed Phillies, 9-2.

Monte Pearson, Yankees—Won 16th game of season, beating Athletics with 13 hits, 7-4.

Dizzy Comes Through in Pinch

The red-hot National league title race got more exciting when Dizzy Dean uncorked his $185,000 arm and set back the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1. Dean, shown with Manager and Catcher Gabby Hartnett (left) just before the start of the game, was forced to retire in the ninth, but he got credit for the victory.

DOTS AND DASHES, ONE OR TWO GRID FLASHES. Relative strength of Santa Ana and Riverside in the Eastern J. C. conference will be revealed—to a certain extent, at least—in the Municipal bowl tonight when the Dons go up against Los Angeles City college.

Riverside punched across three touchdowns and a safety to defeat Los Angeles, 21-7, last week. The Cubs, however, suffered from poor passing at center, and probably have corrected this weakness for tonight's clash. From all indications the score will be smaller. . . . Bill Cook says he will be satisfied if his Dons come out six points ahead.

Another close game should develop up north tomorrow afternoon when G. A. (Tex) Oliver, the former Santa Ana coaching maestro, sends his University of Oregon eleven against the U. C. L. A. Bruins at Eugene. . . . If the "Oliver Twist" system wins this one, Oregon no longer will be known as the "dark horse" of the Pacific Coast conference.

ART STRANSKE ON FIRST STRING AT HAWAII U. Blond Art Stranske, battering fullback who also was track star at Santa Ana High, is on the first string in football at the University of Hawaii.

Art writes me that competition is keen inasmuch as the Islanders are all steamed up over their trip to the mainland this year. . . . University of Hawaii plays at Denver Nov. 12 and at Fresno State Nov. 18, which means that Stranske and his teammates will be away from the islands for about a month.

CHOICE TILTS LISTED ON COAST GRID

SAN FRANCISCO. (P)—The Pacific Coast conference football omelet gets its first scrambling of the season this week-end.

At Pullman, Wash., tomorrow, the University of California Bears open the defense of their conference title against a supposedly weak Washington State eleven, which dropped the season's opener to University of Oregon last week-end.

Oregon, considered the conference darkhorse, entertains UCLA at Eugene. Last year UCLA beat Oregon, 26 to 13. The Uclans in their first game this season nuzzled University of Iowa and established themselves as contenders for the conference title.

A favored University of Southern California team, which had its ears pinned back by Alabama last week, tangles with the Oregon State Beavers, who lost their season's opener to the University of Idaho. Last year the Trojans and Beavers played a 12-to-12 tie.

Idaho, impressive in its win over the Beavers, moves into Seattle to play the powerful University of Washington team.

Despite a 15-to-0 whitewashing at the hands of Minnesota at Minneapolis last week, Washington is still considered the team to beat in the conference race. They are favored 2 to 1 over the Vandals, whom they beat 21 to 7 last year.

Stanford university's 1938 football edition makes its debut in a non-conference clash with Santa Clara at Palo Alto tomorrow. The game, considered a tossup, is expected to attract a record crowd.

Santa Clara, which last two years and is favored by many to make it three in a row. Coach Tiny Thornhill of Stanford does not share the opinion.

RABURN PINS MAGILL HERE

One of the cleanest wrestling matches ever staged at the Orange County Athletic club resulted in an impressive victory for Bill Raburn in two-out-of-three falls with Cecil Magill of Long Beach here last night.

Raburn captured the first fall with an "alligator clutch" in 15 min. 4 secs., but Magill caught the Georgian in a hammerlock to even the score in the second fall in 6 min. 3 secs.

Raburn applied a backward body slam to capture the third fall and the match in 11 min. 41 secs. The fast, alert matadors showed a willingness to mix it rather than reach for the ropes.

Lloyd Britt, alias "The Red Devil," eked out a victory over Bobby Chick. Britt took the first fall in 16:14 with a body press. He lost the second with an airplane spin and body press in 9:02, but won the third and deciding fall in 3:57 with a body press.

Jimmie Lott, after being caught in a spin hold by Mr. X, came back with a furious attack to win in 16 min. 43 secs. of the semi-final match.

Referee Herb Stegman was given a real workout in the 20-minute preliminary between Joe Smallinski and Mike Strelch. The Russian and Strelch finished in a draw, after a rough exhibition of biting, scratching and choking.

BUDGE, LUBIN CLASH TODAY

LOS ANGELES. (P)—Don Budge, the defending champion, and Ronald Lubin of Los Angeles, the "giant killer" of the tournament, were slated to battle today in a feature men's singles match of the Pacific southwest tennis championships.

Lubin, having waded through Fumiteru Nakano of Japan, Jacques Brugnon of France and Jack Tidball, ex-college star of Los Angeles, met in Budge the biggest giant of them all. The winner goes into the semi-finals.

YANKEES SET FOR THIRD WORLD SERIES

NEW YORK. (P)—The New York Yankees, seeking to break all precedent by winning their third straight World Series, will go into action against either the Chicago Cubs or Pittsburgh Pirates next Wednesday firing the same double-barreled shotgun that has mowed down the Giants in the last two autumn arguments.

First, Manager Joe McCarthy will explode Vernon (Lefty) Gomez at the National league batters, and then he will pull the other trigger, Rufus (Red) Ruffing. If the enemy survives the twin blast and the mopping-up operations of assorted other Yankee pitchers and still is acting belligerent, then Gomez and Ruffing will be fired again.

That about sums up the Yankees' pitching strategy. In Ruffing, who has won 21 and lost 7 this season, and Gomez, with an 18-12 count, the champs own a pair of the greatest flingers in the game today. Together, they form an incomparable short-series combination.

Gomez has won all five World Series games he has started. Ruffing has won two and lost one. With Monte Pearson, the Cub's third fine pitcher, sick and unlikely to start in the series, and Spud Chandler, sensational young star, out with a bad elbow, it looks like the Yankees will have only their two aces to depend upon. But that is something like saying that a man has only two million dollars left in the bank.

Nether the Cubs nor the Pirates boasts such a brace of hotshots, but both have good pitching and the Cubs figure to do a lot of damage with Bill Lee and Clay Bryant if they qualify for the big doings. Lee, with 22 wins and 9 losses, and Bryant with 19 and 11, have been pitching phenomenal ball during the Cubs' stretch drive.

SECOND COMBINATION
Ends—Ted DeVelbiss and Les Valentine. Tackles—Cy Leivermann and Tom Anderson or Wes Mulkins. Guards—Dick Horton and Pete Kotlar. Center—Gil Bristow. Quarterback—Bill Wilson or Larry Monroy. Halfbacks—Harold Tucker and Rollo Beck, or Dan Kaufman and Jerry Nesmith. Fullback—Art Heinisch.

Two of Santa Ana's best quarterbacks, Lynn Arnett and Don Borden, are bothered by knee injuries, and will play only part-time. Both are accurate passers, and will be needed. Fullback Larry Timken probably will be moved to quarterback at the start of the game, with Dick Saunders going to fullback, Cook said.

Gil Neirig probably will start at tackle in place of towering Virgil Stevens, favoring an injured knee.

Los Angeles will bring here a starting eleven containing eight veterans. The Cubs have added strength since losing to Riverside 21-7, a defeat that was due partially to bad passing at center.

Fontaine Fights On Legion Card

HOLLYWOOD. (P)—Ritchie Fontaine, the body-punching Butte, Mont., featherweight, and Emilio Magana of Los Angeles, meet in a 10-round bout at the Hollywood stadium tonight. It is billed as an elimination contest to choose a local contender for the featherweight throne vacated by Henry Armstrong.

$988 AWARDED AS RESULT OF AUTO MISHAP

A $5200 auto accident damage suit, tried in superior court in July, had been decided today by Superior Judge Raymond McIntosh of Sierra county, who was sitting here at the time.

Findings and judgment in the case were filed with County Clerk B. J. Smith, awarding $988 damages to Herbert L. and Ethel May Pontius of Fullerton against C. Gerald and Myrtle McComber, owners, and Garner McComber, driver of the other car.

In the accident which formed a basis for the suit, cars driven by Mrs. Pontius and young McComber collided at Wilshire and Harvard avenues, Fullerton, last Feb. 18, damaging both autos and injuring Mrs. Pontius. Each claimed the other was at fault, with the McCombers filing a cross-complaint for $352.40 repairs to their auto.

Judge McIntosh denied their cross-complaint, awarding Mrs. Pontius $783 damages for her injuries, $80 for medical expense and $145 for repairs to her car.

Growers Want Pay For Trees Lost in War on Disease

YUCAIPA, (AP)—Growers whose trees were destroyed by the state during a campaign to eradicate peach mosaic disease mapped a campaign today for legislation to compensate them for their losses.

A. M. Storch, chairman of the Growers' Protective committee, said:

"We have been informed that we have as much right to state compensation as cattlemen had when they were paid for animals destroyed by the state."

She had sued for $5237. Charles Swanner of Santa Ana represented the plaintiffs, with Joe Crider, Jr., and Forgy, Reinhaus and Forgy appearing for the defendants.

LOCHINVAR IN RAGS

by KATHRYN CULVER

CHAPTER XXXVI
"WHAT!" exclaimed Edith, in response to Isolde's startling announcement. Julie said nothing, but she sank down on the steps limply.

Isolde smiled triumphantly. "I've got the deed signed, sealed, and delivered—right here in my hand-bag. A million-dollar note for a measly two thousand in cash. How's that for smart business?"

"The Bar-X?" Edith was frowning. "Barry Caldwell's ranch? But it's worthless!"

"Oh, no, my dear," Isolde said airily. "The noted mining engineer, Mr. Normandy Buford, is even now hard at work rediscovering a gold vein worth a fortune. Won't he feel like a prize idiot when he returns and finds out he's been opening up a mine on my property?"

Julie still hadn't said anything. She couldn't. She was struggling to straighten things out in her mind. So Isolde explained Isolde's interest in Barry! Somehow, she had discovered Normandy's secret.

Was it possible that Kenneth had misinterpreted the scene between Barry and Isolde in the Poll Parrot? Had Isolde merely been using her wiles on Barry in order to gain possession of the ranch? Renewed hope throbbed in Julie's heart. If that was the case, Barry might not be lost to her, after all!

SHE heard Edith asking, "What is all this talk about a gold vein and Normandy? Have you lost your mind?"

Isolde laughed. "Not I, my dear Edith. Unless turning a smart deal is evidence of insanity."

"But what's it all about?" Edith persisted.

Isolde's eyes were mocking. "It's quite simple. You'd better tell Normandy not to leave his mail lying around to be read, the next time he goes on the trail of a gold mine! It was like taking candy from a baby!"

"Where," asked Julie, "is Barry?"

Isolde shrugged. "I don't know and I don't care. Of all the poky ticks I ever saw, he takes the cake! I practically threw myself into his arms last night—putting over this deal—and all he could think of was going to the rescue of some pianist who had got herself in a jam and was in jail. I had to go to the police station with him, and he came out and rushed off to the Cosmopolitan Hotel like a crazy man, looking for her. She had already been released."

"S-a-a-y!" Isolde suddenly paused, and frowned at Julie. "You were that pianist, weren't you?"

Julie nodded, her eyes alight. Everything was all right! Barry did still love her! He had gone to her rescue! Her heart was so overflowing with happiness over this realization that she forgot all about the trick Isolde had played on Barry in regard to the ranch.

But Edith was saying bitterly, "You're certainly a swell guest! You've got a nerve to come back here and tell us all this."

"I'm just staying long enough to pack my things," Isolde told her. "Don't think I want to stay around here a minute longer than I have to. I'm headed back for New York and the bright lights where men know how to make love and aren't so darned slow a girl has to light a fire under them! You can keep your Kene and your Barry!"

"That," said Kenneth's voice from the house doorway. "Is just, fine! I think we can rock along without you!"

Isolde laughed mockingly, then went up the steps and into the house without another word.

THE END.

DEMOCRATS IN WESTMINSTER SATURDAY

Democrats of Orange county will fire the opening gun of the general election campaign Saturday night when they rally at Westminster.

Prior to the rally and the program, Democrats of the Westminster district will meet and form their campaign organization and name the chairman to head the group.

Plans for the rally were completed yesterday by a Westminster committee headed by Mrs. Myrtle Knouse.

The rally and dance will be held in the Odd Fellows hall and will start promptly at 7:30 p. m. with several speaking in behalf of the entire Democratic ticket to be voted on Nov. 8.

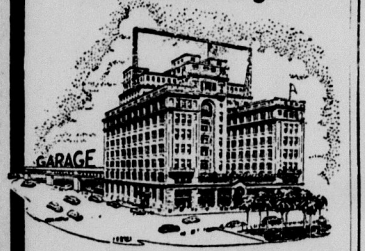

"All rallies to be held in this county, as in all other parts of the state, will be in behalf of all candidates on the Democratic ticket," J. Wayne Harrison, county campaign chairman announced today. "The various candidates will either be present or have representation but the rally will be a combined effort."

Charles Grubbs, former director of NRA, will deliver one of the principal addresses and, in addition to backing the entire ticket, will talk in behalf of Sheridan Downey, candidate for senator. James Brewer of Los Angeles will deliver another talk on behalf of the entire ticket and Sen. Gilbert L. Olson, Democratic nominee for governor. Congressman Harry L. Sheppard, candidate for re-election from the 19th district, will speak on campaign issues. Other speakers will include Harold Thoreson, vice-chairman of the State Central committee, and Burr A. Brown of Seal Beach, candidate for assembly from the 75th district.

Police were unable to locate today a hit-and-run automobile which reportedly crashed into a machine owned by C. J. Kimball, 1009 Kilson drive, at 1:44 a. m. today. Kimball said his car, which was parked at 523 South Sycamore was damaged considerably.

Dick J. Lee, 52, of Los Angeles, was arrested at Santa Clara and North Main streets last night on a drunk driving charge. Booked at the county jail, he was released on $200 bond.

$52-a-Month Attendant in Hospital, Ballet Dancer to Share Surprise $1,000,000

NEW YORK. (AP)—It's an O. Henry story with a typical surprise ending—this true-life tale of how a former assistant theater manager and a ballet dancer were kind to an eccentric old lady and reaped an estimated $1,000,000 reward.

The old lady was 70-year-old Mrs. Edna Moss Allin Elliott, a quaint haunter of film houses who became known as "New York's champion movie fan."

A feminine hermit, she died friendless and alone last Friday in her three-story brownstone house in West Eighty-eighth street.

Her will disclosed she had left securities and $80,000 in jewels to Rosalie Spatcher, a ballet dancer, and the residue to William J. Reilly, former assistant manager of the Roxy theater. They had "helped to make the recent years of my life pleasant," Mrs. Elliott wrote in her will.

Reilly, whose sudden wealth lifted him from a $52-a-month hospital attendant's post, said attorneys told him the estate was valued at $1,000,000.

He said when he first met Mrs. Elliott in 1927 he thought she was poor—she wore old-fashioned dresses with leg mutton sleeves—and arranged for her to have

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Julius Fehrer is now a recognized publisher—at the age of 11.

He puts out the "West Sacramento Weekly Reader," a three-page mimeographed paper with a circulation of 50 subscribers (advertising rate one cent a word, two cents if political).

The other day an eastern type machine company attempted, by letter, to sell him one of their machines. He figured he couldn't afford a $4750 investment on profits of a dollar a week.

Mrs. Eighmey Asks Probate of Will

Probate of the will of the late Manley Gates Eighmey, who died Sept. 5, was asked today by the widow, Mrs. Florence J. Eighmey, in a petition filed in superior court.

Mr. Eighmey's estate, the widow said, includes a half interest in the Costa Mesa Bird farm. The estate is estimated at less than $10,000, and is to go entirely to the widow under terms of a will dated Feb. 2, 1918.

DR. DAFOE DEFEATS SUIT

CHICAGO. (AP)—Dr. Allan R. Dafoe returned today to "my five little girls"—the Dionne quintuplets—after winning dismissal of a $1,000,000 damage suit.

The suit was filed by Ivan I. Spear, a Chicago promoter who signed a contract for exploitation of the quintuplets with their father, Olivia Dionne, soon after their birth.

Federal Judge John P. Barnes ordered the suit dismissed late yesterday on grounds that no evidence was presented to show that the defendants had conspired to break the contract, as alleged by Spear.

61 ENROLL IN PIANO CLASS

Sixty-one aspiring pianists turned out this week for the Popular Piano class of the evening high school; and plans were made to divide the group into two sections, Director Golden Weston said today.

The advanced class will meet Monday evenings from 7 to 9 p. m. in the Lathrop building, 1120 South Main street. The beginning group will continue to meet Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p. m. in room 206 of the Willard Junior High school, 1342 North Ross street.

Meeting place of the class in Civic Affairs has been changed from the Y. M. C. A. to the board of education building, room 110. The class, sponsored by the

Jitterbug Craze and Unusual Hats held Due to Public's Subconscious Fear of War

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Mad hats and the jitterbug craze... both are demonstrations of the public's subconscious anticipation of trouble in the world, movie stylist Orry Kelly says he believes.

Wars and threats of war have a direct effect on women's fashions, Kelly said today, and sometimes, he added, feminine styles predict the possibility of war months ahead of actual news about it.

"Women who are afraid to think what may happen hide their concern behind those hats and suddenly elaborated clothes," Kelly says. "It was that way just before 1914 when smart women wore the most bizarre clothes in history. When the war ends or rumors of possible war subside, clothes go back to strict simplicity."

"Fantastic dances—these jitterbug jamborees—are as much an indication as the 'absolutely ridiculous' hats that there is liable to be trouble ahead."

JOBLESS HERE PAID $18,631

Unemployed workers in Orange county got 1938 checks totaling $18,631.26 during August as state unemployment insurance benefits.

This announcement came today from James L. Matthews, chairman of the California Unemployment Reserves commission, who said that last month claimants all over the state got $2,289,581.23 in 243,085 insurance checks.

Total payments, including the August figures, have amounted to $108,297.10 in Orange county, Matthews said, in 11,593 checks. These payments represent 7 per cent of the total amount paid throughout the state.

Your Newspaper Keeps You Informed Of The Activities In Your Own Community

Doubtless you, like thousands of others have adopted this community as your home, believing it to be the ideal place in which to live!

Too, you are interested in its progress and activities, recognizing that these influences contribute to your comfort and security.

Learn of the things happening in your home community through the Santa Ana Journal, Orange County's fastest growing daily newspaper . . . a big, healthy publication, sparkling with fresh news every day . . . stories of World and National import . . . intimate news of whats going on around you.

Greatest News-Gathering Agencies

Through the globe-girdling news gathering facilities of the Associated Press, readers of the Journal are informed of the events of the day often within an hour after they have happened. From state, nation and foreign countries the news flows into the office of the Journal over the automatic telegraphic printers, at the rate of 60 words a minute, the most modern method of news transmission. Readers can always depend upon the Journal telegraph news to be up-to-the-minute and accurate.

Local News

A staff of reporters gathers the news of our community's activities, daily. They tell you of the city affairs, chamber of commerce, Merchants association, clubs, business progress, music, art and scores of intimate stories of interest to every member of the family.

The Advertisements Provide News, Too

The leading stores and markets of our community present their news of regular merchandise and special sales. By following these advertisements, your family budget will go much further. This factor, alone, will more than pay for the nominal cost of subscribing to the Journal.

Comics

A full page of comics produced by leading humorists and artists of the country is a daily feature of the Journal. You'll enjoy many a laugh while following the antics of your favorite comic strip characters.

Feature Writers

"SKINNY SKRIBBLES" intimate news of happenings in Orange county by Orange county's leading columnist, C. F. (Skinny) Skirvin. "The Merry-Go-Round," news behind the news in Washington by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen. "Fair Enough," by Westbrook Pegler. "Day by Day Philosophy" by Dale Carnegie. "I Just Found Out," by Millard Browne, and many others contribute to your entertainment, knowledge and amusement.

Social News

A friendly medium of exchange for news of personal events, the society page of the Journal reflects the pleasures and recreations prominent in the social life of the community. And the department offers, in addition to details of parties, weddings, trips, guests, clubs and organizations, fashion and pattern service and daily recipes of practical value to every household.

Sports

Night ball is a major local sport and attracts thousands of fans each season. News of night ball happenings—scores, detailed accounts of games and lively comment from under the arcs—will be found on the Journal sports page. Read the Journal for full local sports and, of course, news of the sports world in general.

Home Delivery Service

90 "Little Merchants" deliver the Journal to subscribers. Scores of letters are in our files praising these youngsters for the manner in which they serve their customers. They insist on door-step delivery—no tossing of papers on lawns or shrubs. Selected for courtesy and efficiency, these young men are welcome visitors every day.

LIONS TOLD OF HOLY LAND BY EX-S. A. MAN

Personal observations from a trip through strife-torn Palestine were brought to Lions club members yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Harlan Hogue, former Santa Ana, now pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Pomona.

Only about 2 per cent of the 800,000 Arabs, he said, have been causing the bloody riots in the Holy Land. Half of the Arabs, he remarked, are thorough, sincere Christians.

The speaker traced development of Palestine under the international Zionist movement, declaring Jews were not coming there because they wanted to, but because of economic and political pressure in Germany and other countries. They are pouring into the tiny country at the rate of 60,000 a year, he said, and have turned the country into a remarkable garden spot, in addition to development of industries and businesses.

"Even the historic Mount Carmel," he remarked, "now has been turned into a subdivision, where you have to spend at least $6,000 on a home or you can't get a lot." Carson Smith was program chairman.

POWDER BLAST KILLS 5
ROME (AP)—Five persons were reported killed in a powder explosion yesterday at Colle Ferro, 85 miles from Rome.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

The writer is in receipt of a letter from John C. Cuneo, secretary-treasurer of the Townsend party of California enclosing a copy of the Townsend party platform which was adopted at the California state convention held in Sacramento Sept. 15 and 16, 1938. As much as possible will be quoted in this column tonight. It follows:

PREAMBLE TO PLATFORM

"When in the course of human affairs it becomes apparent to a free people that their government has become corrupt and inefficient to the extent that the people become debt ridden and great masses of them are held in abject poverty in the midst of abundance, when crime in high places as well as in low is continually on the increase until the cost of fighting crime becomes one of the major expenses of government—then it becomes the duty of such people to take matters in their own hands, terminate the evil regime and establish a vigorous new policy of government based upon common sense, equity and justice. This the Townsend party proposes to do, and presents the following:

"Platform of the Townsend party for the consideration and support of the people of California and of the nation.

PLANK 1.

"The power to tax can be either the power to destroy or to rebuild, reconstruct or to build anew our economic structure; therefore, we demand that taxation to every member of the population at the same rate and based entirely on the volume of his gross sales of goods and services to the public.

"We demand a universal gross sales or business tax to be collected monthly by the national government on all goods and services sold within the jurisdiction of the United States at the rate of two per cent; this rate to continue until it becomes apparent that a greater or lesser amount of tax money should be raised, when the rate may be adjusted.

PLANK 2.
"We demand that all tax monies raised by the gross sales tax shall be used by the government, after deduction of collection is deducted, in employing the citizens of the country who have reached the age of sixty years, and above, as distributors of government credit; that the net sales revenue derived therefrom after the cost of collection is deducted, be presented and paid monthly to all citizens of the age stated, who have registered and agreed to the terms of the employment stipulated by the government—namely—that the citizen so employed shall take oath to expend the money for goods and services within the confines of the United States and its territories and within thirty days of the receipt thereof. This process of government will immediately remove the cause of unemployment, and by creating a vast demand for goods and services, the creation and distribution of which will call for the energetic activity of the entire nation.

PLANK 3.
"We demand that our government, which has the sole authority to coin and print money and establish its value shall also assume the task of regulating the circulation of money through the employment of aged citizens as cited above, and that it desist from the practice now employed by it of compelling the circulation of money through borrowing. Borrowing money into circulation is destructive to industry, leads directly to wholesale unemployment and through subservience to the money masters that debt creates, this practice makes for the destruction of that freedom of speech and action which constitutes the American spirit of democracy.

PLANK 4.
"We demand that our farmers, stock raisers and laborers in industry shall be protected from competition through the introduction on our markets of products from foreign countries where the standards of wages are below ours. We demand that foreign countries shall be required to raise the standard of living of their workers to the level with that of ours or keep their products at home.

PLANK 5.
"We demand simplicity and efficiency in government; that the hundreds of cumbersome overlapping bureaus in our national and state governments be reduced to a rational basis and that the boards of useless and superfluous tax-exacters be driven into wealth-creating activities."

There are three other planks in the Townsend party platform which will be quoted in tomorrow night's column. It is hoped that my readers will carefully read and study the above five planks and will give the same attention to the ones which will be in tomorrow night's column. I think you will find the Townsend party platform a wonderful one if you study it.

Remember there will be a wonderful Townsend mass meeting in Santa Ana tomorrow night tomorrow night. First the Hurd-Lentz orchestra will give a concert beginning at 7 p. m. and at 7:30 the regular Townsend meeting will be called to order by Walter R. Robb who a little later will introduce Rev. Joe Nation, a human dynamo, who will be the evening speaker. Tell your friends.

$24,252 ESTATE

The late G. L. Niles of Orange left an estate worth $24,252.78. Inheritance Tax Appraiser Howard Irwin reported today. Irwin listed assets including $1500 in cash, $10,000 in notes, $4000 worth of stock and $8750 in real estate.

'LIFTBOARDS' RULED O. K. DOWNEY STILL FOR $30 PLAN

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Waterfront employers of San Pedro harbor can make use of "liftboards" in loading cargo, and longshoremen must perform their work with this device at the regular wages of 95 cents an hour and $3.40 an hour overtime, Wayne L. Morse, dean of the University of Oregon law school, who served as arbitrator in a dispute, ruled today.

Dean Morse, named arbitrator by the U. S. department of labor, held the employers had the right to make use of the boards under the agreement of Feb. 4, 1937, which said in part, "the employer shall be free to introduce labor-saving devices providing such methods are not inimical to the safety and health of the employees."

It Costs $2950 to Refer to This Girl As 'Blonde Hussy'

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The eighth court of civil appeals here today affirmed a decision awarding Betty Bailey Wilson of Dallas $2950 in a suit against McFadden publications.

Mrs. Wilson, former "Sweetheart" of the Southern Methodist university band, sued Liberty magazine in a Dallas district court for libel after the magazine in an article had called her "A Blonde Hussy."

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Sheridan Downey, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, said today after returning from a conference with President Roosevelt that he still is supporting the $30-every-Thursdays pension plan for California. He said a discussion of the old-age pension with the President did not come up at their conference.

"I'm still of the opinion that the ultimate solution of the age pension problem in the United States must be on a fractional basis," Downey said. "However, pending sound national action, I'm supporting and I will vote for the $30-every-Thursdays plan advanced for California."

Tuna Boats Fitted For Albacore Run Off Oregon Coast
SAN PEDRO. (AP)—The second year of a big run of albacore off the Oregon coast had prompted fish packers here today to convert large tuna clippers into tender ships to serve jumbo boats off the Oregon coast.

The California fish and game commission reports some 4,000,000 pounds of albacore were caught in two months off Oregon.

Refitting of the tuna clippers is due to lack of refrigerator space on coastwise ships or accessible storage plants on the coast.

BLIND VOYAGE

Theodore (Teddy) Raynor keeps receiving peculiar letters from a John Smitting, urging her to sign up for a cruise aboard a motor yacht, the Golden Gull. Her Aunt Elsie, with whom she shares an apartment in New York, thinks it is just high-pressure salesmanship, but Teddy is intrigued by the letters. Hugo Albright, who grew up with her, but whom she hasn't seen for several years, arrives in New York from Chicago, calls on Teddy and reveals that he, too, has been hearing from Smitting. He paid no attention until he received a letter making a cryptic reference to his late father. He then hired a detective to investigate Smitting, but has learned only that the man is an ex-doctor who now runs a travel bureau. He and Teddy decide to go and see Smitting.

Aunt Elsie was still protesting, but Teddy just laughed at her as she kissed her goodby.

JOHN SMITTING'S travel bureau proved to be a small, unpretentious suite of offices, but the reception room was attractively furnished, and there was an air of dignity about the place.

"At least, his surroundings look all right," Teddy murmured, as she and Hugo waited, after giving their names to the reception clerk. "That doesn't mean anything," Hugo grunted. Then, he added, "I noticed, by the way, that the receptionist referred to him as Dr. Smitting, so he evidently still uses his title."

A few minutes later, they were ushered into an inner office. A lanky middle-aged man, with a cadaverous face and shiny bald head, rose from his desk to greet them.

"Ah, Miss Raynor... and Mr. Albright," he said silkily. "I am delighted to see you! But I am a bit surprised that you come together."

CHAPTER II
AUNT ELSIE entirely disapproved of Teddy's and Hugo's decision.

They lingered over the meal a long time, seeming reluctant to part.

"You're both being very silly!" she said to Hugo, when Teddy had left the room. "Falling for a cheap advertising stunt! That's all it is. The only thing to do is to ignore it."

"I can't see any harm in just going to call on the man," Hugo countered.

"If you call on him, you'll come back here signed up for his cruise! At least Theodore will!" Aunt Elsie sighed. "She's just like her father—incurably romantic! Always ready for a new adventure! That was my brother Henry!"

"That was like that, too," Hugo murmured.

"I know—he and my brother were a pair! They never grew up. All the money they made seemed to mean nothing to them except that it enabled them to indulge their weakness for strange enterprises. During the last years of Henry's life, after he retired from business, he used to have the most peculiar visitors at the most peculiar hours!"

"Well," said Hugo, "he and Dad probably got a lot of fun out of life. Most of us keep our noses so close to the grindstone that we forget to live!"

When, half an hour later, he and Teddy left the apartment.

"I'm in town on business," Hugo said curtly. "And I've taken the opportunity to come in with my friend, Miss Raynor, to learn the reason for the most unbusinesslike and unconventional letters you have been writing to both of us in regard to this cruise you're advertising."

"Unbusinesslike?" Dr. Smitting looked pained. "My dear sir... if you will please be seated, I shall try to explain satisfactorily."

"I'm particularly interested in knowing just why you referred to my father in the last letter you wrote me."

Dr. Smitting resumed his place behind his desk.

"Briefly, the situation is this," he began precisely. "The cruise of the Golden Gull, though publicly advertised will be more or less exclusive. That is, we are not accepting applications indiscriminately. The cruise is being privately sponsored by a man who wishes to make his passenger list selective."

"Who is this man?" Hugo demanded.

"I don't know," he said. "I don't know!" exclaimed Teddy.

"No—he prefers to remain unknown for the present. He has dealt with me through his bank, a reputable house which vouches for him." Smitting named the bank, and produced some papers to back up his statements. "He engaged me to organize the cruise."

"A most peculiar way of doing business!" snorted Hugo. "But you still haven't told me why you had the audacity to allude to my father in your last letter."

"This man was an old friend of your father's," said Dr. Smitting. "Also Cecil Stoddard's father. I received instructions, for that reason, to try in particular to interest you two in the cruise. He wants very much to have you in the party."

"This gets queerer and queerer," said Hugo. "Why not introduce himself and tell us openly that he wants us as—paying guests on his cruise?"

Dr. Smitting shrugged. "I gather he is rather an eccentric person."

Teddy suddenly laughed. "Hugo, it may simply be some one's idea of a lark... Dr. Smitting, who are some of the other people he has asked you to contact?"

Smitting smiled smugly. "One big shot—John Carper, the millionaire. I'm pleased to say I've already succeeded in booking him. Also Cecil Stoddard and his wife."

"America's most famous playboy," murmured Teddy. "Hugo, it sounds rather intriguing—"

"It sounds to me like a matter for the police!" Hugo cut in bluntly.

"Go to the police, by all means, Mr. Albright," said Smitting, quite untroubled.

Hugo rose. "Come along, Theodore—let's get out of here."

"Just a moment, old hot-head," Teddy turned to Dr. Smitting. "How much does this cruise cost?"

"Hm, rather expensive! However, I'll think it over."

"Dear Miss Raynor! Do!"

Smitting bowed them out, with a smile that was a little too ingratiating.

As they passed through the outer office, a man entered from the hall—a perfectly tailored, rather distinguished-looking man of about forty. At sight of Teddy, he hesitated as though he were going to speak, and it seemed to her that an odd expression came into his eyes. Then, he passed on toward the reception desk.

"Hugo," said Teddy, as they went down in the elevator, "need you have been quite so rude to Dr. Smitting?"

"I don't like him," said Hugo. "And I hope you didn't mean what you said about considering this crazy cruise."

"Oh, but I did! I haven't any plans for June, and my curiosity is aroused."

"So is mine—but I think we ought to steer clear of the thing."

"Well, let's forget it now, and have some lunch," said Teddy.

OVER the uncheon table, in a near-by restaurant, they talked of themselves, and Teddy made no protest when Hugo held her hand.

"You still have the most impudent, little-fairy face, Theodore."

"Call me Teddy, for gosh sake!"

"Okay... Teddy." He said the name softly, dwelling on it.

Teddy smiled at him, feeling a strange stirring in her heart.

"I must admit, Hugo, that you're improved with age." She turned her cuff and pointed to a small white scar on her wrist. "Do you remember when you bit me there—when you were twelve?"

"I seem to remember that you kicked me in the shins first," Hugo grinned. "But I'm sorry I bit you. I—I should have kissed you instead."

They lingered a long time over the meal, seeming reluctant to part. It was well past the middle of the afternoon when they finally separated, after making an engagement to have dinner together the following evening.

Teddy, on reaching home, was met by the maid in the front hall. "There's a Mr. Graham here to see you, miss. I told him you were out, but he insisted on waiting. And he looked all right, so I—"

"You know you shouldn't let strangers in, Mary," Teddy rebuked.

Removing her hat, she moved to the living-room doorway. She paused there in surprise. Her visitor, who had risen at her appearance, was the same man who had been going into Dr. Smitting's office.

Band Music?

Last week-end we firmly filed in the crush-this-menace department an insidious bit of carrying-on which has been seeping into that great American institution, football.

Most certainly it should be crushed now, at the beginning of the season, before it undermines the very structure of our athletic system.

We refer, of course, to the rendition by supposedly mainly university bands of such ditties as "A Tisket, a Tasket," or whatever the fool thing is called.

Time was when the late Mr. Sousa's music was good enough for a football crowd. It gave the gridiron gladiators, too, the old die-for-dear-old-Siwash spirit, like soldiers going into battle.

Some football games, it is true, resemble the old-fashioned polka, whether the music is appropriate or not. A little more oomph from the trombone section might help the situation.

But the athletic prowess of our youth, accustomed to exercise at Balboa in the summertime, may be seriously hampered by such distracting discords, where a stiff jigger of "The Washington Post" or "Semper Fidelis" might turn the stadium waltz into a pigskin classic.

Can you picture Red Cagle, or Jim Thorpe, or the Four Horsemen truckin' across into the end zone to the agonized strains of "Flat Foot Floogie With the Floy Floy"?

Fooy, fooy.

Now that Hitler has acquired Austria and Sudentland by out-bluffing Britain France and Russia, the question is: What will he demand next? The best bet seems to be that he will insist on return of colonies lost in the World war.

The Easiest Way

The most difficult task for a human being to use to its full the undoubted intelligence with which he is endowed is a crisis when mass opinion and mass prejudice are running wild. The easy—and the common—thing to do is to seize upon a new or old bit of prejudice and support it just as fervently as if it were a logically-formed and high-principled judgment.

The very best course for citizens of the United States to follow, as individuals, The Journal believes, is to hold every opinion or suggestion concerning the present European crisis at arm's length and study each well, in the full light of unprejudiced intelligence, before adopting or accepting.

The passions and prejudices of the light thinkers and the selfishly interested must be offset by the calm and deliberate logic and high purpose of others, or passion and prejudice will undoubtedly rule.

It has been demonstrated that a stretched rubber band snaps back at the rate of 204 miles an hour, thus proving that the British racing car over on the Utah salt beds the other day went to beat the band.

Wise Old Senator

The American statesman who has longest and most consistently warned the United States against entanglements in the non-understandable and non-predictable intrigues of Europe—Senator Borah—has practical, unemotional views of the current squabble, which, he says, "is not our affair."

"The people of this country may now look forward to a deluge of propaganda seeking to involve the United States in these controversies, and all in the name of peace," Borah warns. "They call it peace to get us in. But after we get in, it is war!"

The wise old senator won't let us enjoy our emotions without insisting that at the same time we calculate the consequences of giving them full play.

He knows that, despite good and idealistic intentions, the United States and its people were the "goats" of the World war.

Now that the deal's all signed, we'd like to know what Mussolini is going to do about the German minorities under his rule.

He's A-Rarin'

Old Dobbin, the family's transportation of yesterday, used always to shy a little when anything white moved suddenly in the dusk along an evening road.

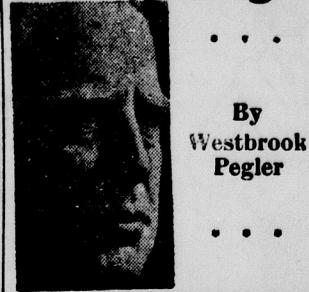

The family came to expect that. They knew Dobbin was only indulging the little bit of temperament there was left in him, and that after a kitchin jiggle or two he would settle into the collar again and go on down the road.

Now it's been dusk, and ghostly shapes—the recurring threats of war—have been showing up along the roadside. Old Dobbin, almost completely out of temperament, and very hungry has been dancing and bucking a little.

Old Dobbin in this parade is the stock market.

The mosquito situation hereabouts reminds us of Mark Twain's observation about the weather: People talk a lot about it, but don't do anything.

Fair Enough

NEW YORK—Not long ago Bob Davis, who does a travel column for American newspapers, wrote one from Vienna explaining why in the midst of the turmoil and horror he has refrained from discussion or even mention of such things and of the rights and wrongs behind them. I hope that what I am about to say on this subject will not be read as an attempt to take him to task for his marvelous detachment.

He has his peanut stand and I run mine, and I will say that he sells a very good brand of peanuts, being a good writer and story-teller, with a great knack for getting about and picking up entertaining pieces, mostly small ones about small people, and packaging them in a wrapper of jovial contentment. Davis said that, of course, he could not help hearing the wind blow when it does blow, but there were experts to attend to that which might be called the sordid and ugly side of life and politics, and that he had an agreement with himself to yield their special field to them. He would resolutely ignore all such and pursue his way calmly—a feat of self-discipline which must relieve a man of much worry and headache.

Too Elaborate
His salute to the experts was a little too elaborate, because Davis also knows a thing or two, and, if he were of a mind to dip his bill into the subjects which he has arbitrarily forbidden himself to write, he would do as good a job as most of the specialists. So, with full respect for his honesty, I suspect that he is being more modest than he should and that his placid neutrality or aloofness is of itself a specialty. No human heart can remain unperturbed and impartial effortlessly. It takes work.

At home we have a somewhat similar specialist in Ernie Pyle, who rattles about the country endlessly, writing in much the same vein, although at times with more feeling, a note of sorrow or pity for the human race—no one class as opposed or compared to another but the whole troubled, pathetic breed of men. He is at Quoddy village one day, in Akron another and writing about a strange restaurant in Toledo the next. Spain is the next, but never does he write in terms of the story versus such knights in armor as Sen. Sherman Minton, of Indiana, preferring, apparently, the belief that most people would like to get along without much hating and fighting and unfortunately, no one knows how. That is my general interpretation of his line but not an attempt to commit him to a formula. He rolls his own.

Envious Davis, Pyle
These are men I envy in my heart, as millions of others do, because they seem to be calm and optimistic, and Davis almost indifferent, in print, although in his soul he may be as badly troubled as the rest. He visits Vienna at a time something very like a massacre and writes of restaurants and finds humanity in men who seem to have stifled compassion and every instinct that makes men feel superior to beasts.

I wish Davis and Pyle could be multiplied by many millions, for we never would have an effective nucleus of tolerance and understanding, but first of all I selfishly wish they could infect me, because they both seem to find nothing but kindness in the hearts of men wherever they go. Maybe the reason is that they find in the hearts of others only that which is in their own. That could be the trouble with me, I suppose.

What Other Editors Say

SUGGESTION
Gray hairs and more than an occasional patch don't seem to have taken the men of the American Legion. And we are glad of that. We are for these lads a million. But—

The Los Angeles convention seems to be setting a new high for a type of fun that is associated with college freshmen.

Except that the legionnaires are more resourceful, more numerous and more privileged than any crowd of freshmen ever were even in college town.

We shall be surprised if the legionnaires don't do something about it this time.

Our idea would be a guard of wise, genial and brawny legionnaires, who would function to discipline those who squirt water on women's gowns, destroy property and otherwise act as a discredit to the uniform and make sober citizens wonder. The few who do these things have nothing in common with the spirit of the legionnaires and it is time the Legion made that clear. — San Francisco News.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

SEPT. 30, 1913
A new time card on the Pacific Electric local and Orange runs went into effect Monday. Under the new schedule the local car runs between the Southern Pacific depot and Main street bridge every half hour instead of every twenty-five minutes and between Orange and Santa Ana every hour instead of every fifty-five minutes.

That Santa Ana is growing and growing very rapidly is proven beyond a doubt by the surprising increase in the school enrollment records each year. Within the last four years, six new schools, including eight new buildings have been erected, and yet each year the schools are crowded.

The first meeting of the Santa Ana Civic club for the current year will be held at the city hall next Saturday, Oct. 4, at 2:30 p. m. The subject for the day is, "Should Santa Ana have a public market?"

Fools can ask questions which wise men cannot answer, but it takes a wise man to know he can't.

There, in the dust, footsore and weary, he fell. "How sad, how unjust!" the world cried, "to perish in the sight of home!" But the umpire refused to reverse his decision.

We mustn't infer that every sad-faced young man is a dyspeptic, for there are other causes. He may have loved and lost, and he may have loved and got her.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON. — It was not supposed to be known, but during part of the summer the United States fleet was teetering on the brink of orders transferring it to the Atlantic in order to be nearer Europe.

The plan was discussed several times by the president, Admiral Leahy and the state department. At one time Secretary of State Welles wanted a part of the fleet brought through the Panama canal and kept in the Atlantic. But Admiral Leahy put his foot down. He told the president that the fleet had been built up as an interdependent unit and could not efficiently be separated. He wanted the fleet kept either in one ocean or the other.

So for a time, Roosevelt considered complete transfer of the fleet to the Atlantic. This was to be largely as a gesture that the United States was by no means disinterested in Hitler's machinations in Europe. Also, it was figured that the fleet had to come east for the New York World's fair anyway, and a transfer a few months earlier would make no difference.

Then reports that Japan might expand her operations, plus the desire of the British for American help in Asia if war broke in Europe, kept the fleet in the Pacific.

Beginning in a few months, however, a new Atlantic fleet will take up its duties. This will be formed after the Atlantic maneuvers when the fleet visits New York this winter. The fleet will maneuver just north of the equator, following which seven new cruisers and seven destroyers will be permanently stationed in Atlantic waters. These will be new ships and will not destroy the unity of the Pacific fleet.

Republican Liberals
If the president is genuinely looking for liberal republicans to support in the current elections he will have no trouble finding them.

A group of them now running for various state and national offices constitute a vanguard that may make political history in the next few years. Three things distinguish them:

1. With one exception they are all young men.
2. Each was nominated over old guard opposition.
3. They have a good chance to win.

The outstanding figures are: LEVERETT SALTONSTALL, 46, candidate for governor of Massachusetts. Scion of an old New England family, Harvard graduate and war veteran, he has been a member of the state legislature since 1923 with an outstanding record as a liberal and friend of labor. Pitted against scandal-scared former Governor James M. Curley, who unexpectedly won the democratic nomination, Saltonstall has excellent prospects of election.

JOHN A. DANAHY, 39, candidate in Connecticut against Sen. Augustine Lonergan, anti-New Deal democrat. A Catholic, war veteran and Yale graduate, Danahy has represented labor in a number of legal cases and for years fought reactionary domination of the GOP in his state. He was formerly assistant U. S. attorney and secretary of state of Connecticut.

RAYMOND E. BALDWIN, 44, candidate for governor in Connecticut, Harvard law graduate, pro-labor and anti-utility crusader. With Danahy he led a successful fight in the recent state GOP housecleaning which brought adoption of a forward-looking platform.

DANIEL ELLISON, 34, candidate for the seat held by Rep. Ambrose Kennedy of Baltimore. He worked his way through the state university, and at 23 was elected county attorney. Two of his brothers are local A. F. of L. leaders, members of the Sheet Metal Workers and Milk Drivers union, and his parents still farm the homestead where he was born.

A militant liberal, Stassen defeated a strong old guard opponent for the nomination.

PAYNE H. RATNER, 42, candidate for governor of Kansas; worked his way through school as a St. Louis reporter and started his law practice in Parsons, Kans., by working as a janitor. As a state senator he led the fight for ratification of the child labor amendment; is a close friend and protégé of Alf Landon, who persuaded him to run for governor. In a recent speech Ratner declared, "The way to preserve democracy is to bend and apply the broad provisions of the American constitution to changing social conditions."

CLYDE M. REED, 67, candidate for U. S. senator from Kansas. Publisher of the Parsons Sun, he is a veteran liberal and is known as the "most progressive governor Kansas ever had." He fought the Klan at the height of its power and won the senatorial nomination over the Rev. Gerald Winrod, a rabble-rousing baiter of Jews and Catholics.

It is a very unstable creature, existing theoretically for a mere millionth of a second when at rest. Strangely enough, it lives longer when it goes fast, owing to the relativistic change in time. One of them with great good luck was photographed at Pasadena coming to rest. Heavy electrons are supposed to disintegrate into electrons and neutrinos. And neutrinos are particles postulated but not yet discovered.

Time Capsule

By WATSON DAVIS

NEW YORK. — Five thousand summers will turn to autumn before a wiser Homo sapiens (we hope) digs up the "time capsule" laid to rest beneath Westinghouse's exhibit at the World's Fair.

That is the hope of those who sealed in non-corroding metal tubing, glass-lined, nitrogen-filled, some typical souvenirs of our present civilization, including a lady's hat, 10,000,000 words and 1,000 pictures on microfilm, a news reel, a Bible, can opener, toothbrush, safety-pin, camera, pipe, fountain pen and pencil, etc. No machine gun was included.

"Will the use of science to increase man's power and control of nature be used to the greatest ultimate benefit or the great ultimate detriment of mankind?" This is M. I. T. President Karl T. Compton's query to the future.

Man is the only creature that carries baggage about with him, observed Dr. Clark Wissler, American Museum of Natural History archaeologist in one of the addresses. He can't live as a human being without this precious baggage, part of which is being cached for posterity.

"But, doctor, you gave me an entirely different diagnosis yesterday."

"That just goes to show, Madam, how rapidly medical science advances." — Boys' Life.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag. Please limit communications to 350 words. The editor reserves the right to shorten all letters in excess of that length.

PEEVED BY PEGLER

To the Editor: I wonder why Pegler goes to the trouble of offering such a lot of explanations that haven't been asked for? The Irish, the Germans, the Italians and the Jews conceivably might be interested in his column as a cheap and handy medium for picking up the language of their adopted country, for he has a rambling style and crude vocabulary that should appeal to certain incoming nationals. But the political, economical and social aspect of his jeremiad is obscure. One feature that is rather a handicap, however, is the distance between his date line and the closing sentence. It is too great.

I hope to acquire an appreciation of the humorous in life, there is so much of the other; in fact, I am highly sensitive in this regard, but one cannot convert one's unmixed contempt into kind condescension even at the efforts of a clownish chauvinistic chump who tries to force humor from what he mistakenly considers to be literature. The age of Pegler's reason, if it ever lived, is dead.

When he discusses foreign policy, foreign lands and foreigners he is as competent as a Babu in a boiler shop, and knowing Babus and boiler shops as I do, sir, I can assure that it is the ultimate of nu-believed that Great Britain had the highest ideal of government in the world. And he resolved to devote his life to making this form of government even better. But he did not stop here. He wanted the British empire to control the whole world.

He returned to London. Again his health broke down. And again he went to see the learned Harley street specialist. The specialist gave a start when he saw Rhodes, but collected himself and made another examination. Then he showed Rhodes the card he had made out on the occasion of his former call. It read: "This poor chap hasn't six months to live."

The poor chap went back to Africa and continued his work for another twenty years.

Lord Nelson won the Battle of Trafalgar. Well, the best day of his life he could not have passed the physical examination necessary to get into our United States navy. It must have been very humiliating.

As a child he was frail, undersized, one of eleven children. But he had luck, ambition and determination. And he had these qualities up to the very moment of death. While on service in India he contracted malaria, and as if this wasn't enough—he struck him. His men rushed to pick him up and held him in their arms.

"They've done for me at last, Hardy," he said. "My backbone is shot through."

And then the poor sickly misfit, who had never had much of a chance, died.

Remarkable Remarks

The car dragged just a little. —John R. Cobb, British racing driver, explaining why the speed record he set was only 350.2 miles an hour.

Work like the devil, do your scrubbing and let the rest take care of itself and you'll live to a ripe old age. —Cornelia Rutherford, 108, of Omaha, Neb., giving her recipe.

I would classify this as a pleasant movement. —Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, on the recent rush of foreign capital to the United States.

It's just like any day in the House of Representatives. —Representative Bruce Barton of New York, at a noisy celebration of the Circus Saints and Sinners Club.

We ordinary people realize that we are not geniuses, and we invent a reason for not making the grade that is soothing to our egos. —Dr. E. M. East, Harvard genetics expert, accounting for the theory that genius is related to insanity.

I'LL TELL YOU....

By BOB BURNS

I always blush every time I think of the way I use 'ta go into Chinese laundries and say "Melican man wantie washie." Since bein' in pictures out here, I've run into men of all nationalities from Chinese to Arabs and I find that most of 'em talk better English than I do.

When my plane stopped in Arizona not long ago, I saw a city dude walk up to an Indian native who was all decked out in feathers and a blanket and the dude says, "White man, heap big friend Indian. Ugh."

The Indian looked at the fella up and down, then turned to another Indian and hollered, "Hey, Chief, come here and get a load of this guy—he's a riot."
